C.S.U. Asserts Pickets to Stay Despite Order

Union Official Says Repairmen Will Honor Seamen's Line Today

Harry Smith, chairman of the Canadian Seamen's Union strike committee stated flatly last night that the picket line at the main gates to the dockyard was not being lifted.

The statement was made despite the serving of Supreme Court injunction earlier in the day prohibiting the C.S.U. from further picketing of the Ss. Seaside and the Ss. Riverside, Eastern-owned freighters which have been in the dockyard area for the past 12 days.

NONE IN SIGHT

(At a late hour last night guards at the main gate to the dockyard at Naden said that no pickets "were in sight.")

The injunction was signed by Justice A. M. Manson and was served to a group of five pickets by Deputy Sherriff Eric Wilkinson accompanied by Esquimalt Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday.

The court order prohibits any further picketing of the two freighters, both of which are manned by rival Seafarers' International Union crews.

Under provisions of the order, it was reported yesterday, the C.S.U. has been forbidden to hinder completion of repairs to the Riverside, which has been without a propeller for the past 12 days.

The C.S.U. spokesman said last night that the injunction covered only 11 union members. He said that the picket line would definitely continue.

Repair crews would be asked to honor the picket line, he stated, if they reported for work today.

"I don't think they will agree to work on the Riverside," he said.

The C.S.U. spokesman said that the picket line would continue to be a peaceful one.

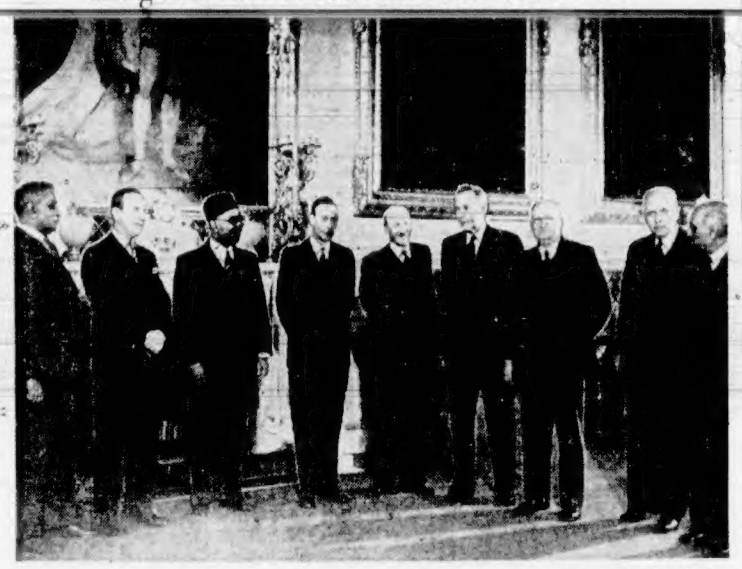

"We have been unarmed the whole time," he said.

A contract for the repair job to the Riverside had been awarded to the Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., H. S. Hammill, general manager at V.M.D., said yesterday that repair work on the freighter would probably start this morning. Until yesterday V.M.D. workmen had refused to pass through the C.S.U. picket line.

(Soon after the Riverside arrived here from Vancouver she entered drydock and had her damaged propeller removed. Before another shift of workmen could complete the job, the C.S.U. picket line had been established.)

Reading of the injunction to the group of C.S.U. pickets yesterday resulted in a brief argument in which they claimed it did not apply to them as they had not been identified by name.

King Entertains Commonwealth Premiers

King George VI chats with British Commonwealth premiers in Buckingham Palace, London, during a reception last week. Left to right, are: Stephen Senanayake, Premier of Ceylon; Lester B. Pearson, Canadian Minister of External Affairs representing the Prime Minister of Canada; Liaquat Ali Khan, Prime Minister of Pakistan; King George; Clement R. Attlee, Britain's Prime Minister; John B. Chifley, Australia's Premier; Dr. Daniel Malan, Premier of South Africa; Peter Fraser, New Zealand's Prime Minister, and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, India's Premier.

$10 Pension Boost Scheduled for Aged

Move Expected to Increase B.C. Burden by $810,000

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP). — Health Minister Martin told the Commons tonight that legislation providing for a $10 a month increase in old-age pensions will become effective as soon as enabling agreements are reached with the Provincial Governments.

He made the statement shortly before the Commons, with almost unprecedented speed, adopted the legislation providing for the boost.

In Victoria it was estimated that the increase will mean another $67,500 to be found by the provincial treasury every month — $810,000 a year for the natural increase in eligibles.

This estimate is on the basis of 25 per cent of old-age pensions cost being met by the province.

At the end of March there were 26,300 receiving pensions in British Columbia, and it was estimated that when the new agreement with Ottawa is signed there will be 27,000 on the list, the number swelling to between 20,000 and 30,000 by the end of the year.

PENSIONS BILL SOARS

With the monthly $10 cost-of-living bonus already granted by the Provincial Government and another $10 every month as its share of the new $40 scale, the province's old-age pension bill will amount to $540,000 per month, or $6,480,000 annually on the basis of 27,000 old age pensioners.

In less than two hours, the Commons passed a resolution to the bill through three stages and the bill itself through four stages. Ordinarily, it takes a bill several days to buck all procedural stages.

Mr. Martin said that 40 per cent of Canada's 275,000 old age pensioners will get $10 more a month because of the new legislation, but C.C.F. and Social Credit members argued that the Government had not gone far enough.

AWAITS AGREEMENTS

Mr. Martin told Donald Fleming (P.C., Toronto Eglinton) that the new legislation will be proclaimed as soon as an agreement with any province is reached. He said agreements with the provinces are necessary because the provinces pay 25 per cent of old-age pensions.

Under the legislation, the Federal Government offers to pay 75 per cent of the cost of old-age pensions of up to $40 a month. At present it pays 75 per cent of pensions of up to $30 a month.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre), Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) and F. D. Shaw (S.C., Red Deer) argued that the Government also should have increased the ceiling of over-all income the pensioners may have. This ceiling, said Mr. Knowles, now allows the single recipient only $10 outside income a month. Wedded recipients, if both get the pension, may only have another $5 a month.

PROCEDURAL TANGLE

The Commons moved into discussion of the bill after an hour-long procedural tangle at the opening on its precedence in debate. George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, unsuccessfully appealed a Speaker's ruling which ruled out of order a motion in which he sought to give the pensions bill priority. His appeal was voted down, 149 to 44.

However, Prime Minister St. Laurent agreed to give the bill the leading place anyway.

To Press Treasure Demands

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP).—The Polish Minister to Canada said today that if Canada does not return his country's art treasures, Poland will consider taking up the matter formally before the United Nations or the International Court of Justice.

Eugeniusz Jan Milnikiel, the Polish Minister, told an hour-long press conference that in no case would Poland consider fighting out before a Canadian court the question of ownership of the treasures, part of which was in the hands of the Quebec Government and part still unlocated.

SHUN COMPENSATION

Neither would his Government consider "monetary compensation" from the Canadian Federal Government if the treasures were not returned. The treasures, brought to Canada for safekeeping in 1940 were "priceless."

He, however, confirmed that not all of the treasures brought to Canada were still in this country. Four chests had been returned to Poland in 1948.

Threatens Increase In Fares

VANCOUVER, April 27 (CP).—The British Columbia Electric Company gave blunt notice today that it will be forced to boost streetcar and bus fares in Vancouver if it meets demands of the Transit Workers' Union.

L. B. Jack, company industrial relations director, said fare requirements will rise to 12.55 cents adult cash fare and 10.88 cents for ticket fares.

He told a conciliation board here today the increase in fares would result in no extra income for the company, but would merely pay increased labor costs.

DEMANDS COSTLY

Union demands, the B.C.E.R. estimates, would cost $2,118,000 annually. Of this amount $1,436,000 would be chargeable to the Vancouver division.

Mr. Jack predicted a 10 per cent decline in passenger traffic if fares are increased. This, he said, was what happened after the fare boost in 1947.

The Street Railwaymen's Union—which represents 3,000 transit workers in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster—is seeking a six-hour cut in the work week, plus a wage boost to compensate for the 10.8 points rise in the cost of living from November 1947 to last month.

Equimalt P.C.'s Seeking Rights

What looked last night like an attempt by Esquimalt Progressive Conservatives to bolt the Coalition formula for the June 15 election slowed down to what appeared more like a pressure play to force Liberals to support a Conservative candidate.

At a nominating convention in Colwood the association nominated E. V. Finland, former M.L.A., as a "candidate" for the election.

(The Johnson-Anscomb formula calls for selection of the candidate in Esquimalt at a joint convention of equal numbers of delegates from Liberals and Progressive Conservatives.)

From the start it was a confused and confusing meeting, closely guarded by a member of the Corps of Commissionaires who scrutinized credentials of all delegates and for a time barred press reporters.

Mr. Finland, as president of the association, declared that "some person or persons unknown has been trying to induce delegates not to attend this meeting."

"INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE"

He stated: "This is a nominating convention called by the executive of the Progressive Conservatives for the purpose of selecting an independent candidate backed by the Esquimalt Progressive Conservative Association."

The candidate, he said, would be pledged to support Coalition, to diminish the present burden of school taxes on land and to use his utmost endeavors to build a West Coast road "at least as far as Port Renfrew."

Thomas Hadfield, former Esquimalt reeve, was elected convention chairman by unanimous vote. Picking up his notes as if he had expected the honor, Mr. Hadfield called for reports on credentials which John Fox, secretary-treasurer, said showed 160 delegates and proxies.

Delegates then began to ask questions about what the word "independent" meant.

"NOT COALITION MEETING"

Said Mr. Hadfield: "I think he is to be a straight Progressive Conservative candidate. A Coalition candidate is chosen at a joint convention. This is not a Coalition meeting."

He said he didn't think "this occasion would have arisen if the Progressive Conservatives hadn't been done out of the seat in the 1945 elections."

His statement started off a wrangle among the delegates, some calling for a straight Progressive Conservative to contest the seat and others charging that this would not only break the Coalition agreement but allow the C.C.F. to win.

As several began to press for a ruling from the chairman on whether the association would meet with the Liberals in a joint convention Mr. Hadfield said he didn't know what would happen if the Liberals nominated another candidate but warned if the Conservatives didn't fight for theirs, they would lose out.

"You're here to nominate a candidate to carry the Conservative colors," he said. "You bowed to the Liberals last time."

Later Mr. Hadfield said he thought Mr. Finland could depend on Progressive Conservative support to carry him through "whatever conventions are in the air" thus indicating that a joint convention might be considered.

(S. T. Morrow, president of the Esquimalt Liberal Association, has already announced he has sent a letter to Mr. Finland asking for a joint meeting of representatives from the two parties.)

Say Car-Testing Station Urgently Needed in City

Need for the establishment of a car-testing station in Victoria was emphasized by the Victoria Branch of the Garage and Motor Trades' Association of British Columbia in a letter to the police commission yesterday.

"With the rapid growth of the city and the increased traffic, it is vitally important to the safety of the public that cars and trucks be regularly checked and tested," the letter stated.

The commission decided to ask Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer what requirements are needed by the city for setting up a testing station.

"More and more accidents are occurring because of mechanical defects," declared Chief John A. McLellan.

The letter stated that garagemen here agree that a large percentage of cars and trucks now being operated are unsafe due to mechanical defects.

"Garagemen's experience is that very often when these faults are pointed out to the car owner, he fails to have it corrected and continues to operate his car in an unsafe condition. Therefore, it is essential that the responsibility of deciding the fitness of a car to operate on the streets here be placed in the hands of competent men equipped with the necessary instruments," the letter read.

The branch offered its full support to any move to establish a testing station, and pointed to the fine record of the Vancouver unit.

B.C. Police Thankful For Move

Provincial Police at Lake Cowichan, B.C., have good reason to be thankful that they moved to new quarters some time ago.

Their former office, unoccupied for some time, was blown up Monday night by a heavy charge of dynamite.

Police said last night that preliminary investigations indicated the explosion was accidental. It is believed a construction company which has been blasting in the area may have had powder, caps and fuse stored in the building.

"We are unable to explain how it was ignited," police said.

"It's just possible that somebody happened along and thought it would make a good explosion.

"It did."

Appeal Slated By Sam Carr

TORONTO, April 27 (CP). — The six-year penitentiary sentence being served by Sam Carr, tenth Canadian to be convicted on charges arising out of the 1946 Soviet spy probe, will be appealed, Carl Herman, Carr's assistant solicitor, announced today.

Arrested in New York recently and returned to Canada, Carr was sentenced in Ottawa earlier this month after being convicted of conspiracy to issue a false passport.

Asks Report On Canadians

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP).—Gordon Graydon (P.C., Peel) asked the Government in the Commons today for a new statement on the situation among Canadians in war-torn China.

Radar Screen Said Outlined

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP).—The armed forces have completed plans for a radar screen to protect this country against air attacks, a high-ranking officer of the United States air force said tonight.

BULLETIN

City Menaced

SHANGHAI, April 28 (Thursday) (AP). — The Communists drove within 38 miles of Shanghai today as Americans stepped up their evacuation from this greatest of Asian cities.

The Shanghai garrison command announced that 4,000 Red troops thrusting Eastward from occupied Soochow had sent vanguards into the vicinity of Weiting. This town on the Shanghai - Soochow railway is 38 miles West of Shanghai.

Curfew for Doukhobors In Effect in Kootenays

CASTLEGAR, B.C., April 27 (CP). —The West Kootenay district held its breath tonight—watching and waiting for further uprisings by the radical Sons of Freedom sect of the Doukhobors.

Tonight marked the first night of curfew as the law adopted a "get tough" policy to cope with the incendiary activities of the Doukhobors.

Imposed today by Provincial Police Commissioner John Shirras, the curfew was just one phase in an all-out counter measure against terrorism by the Doukhobor radicals.

En route to the troubled Kootenay area—where the major portion of the Province's 10,000 Doukhbors is concentrated—are 30 R.C.M.P. officers and 20 extra Provincial Police constables.

Already police are maintaining a 24-hour patrol of highways and guards have been placed on all bridges and public buildings.

The protection machinery was swung into gear following an appeal from residents of the Kootenays who fearfully discussed new outbreaks of violence by the fire-raiders at a public meeting here Tuesday.

Simultaneously a special investigation was launched by a special investigator and the Provincial fire marshal into the cause of a blaze Sunday which destroyed the new $85,000 school at nearby Tarrys. Believed responsible are the Sons of Freedom.

At the public meeting here residents telegraphed an appeal to Attorney-General Wismer for protection from the turbulent Doukhobors. One Castelgar business man said it would take only one more fire to "touch off open warfare" between orthodox and radical Doukhobors.

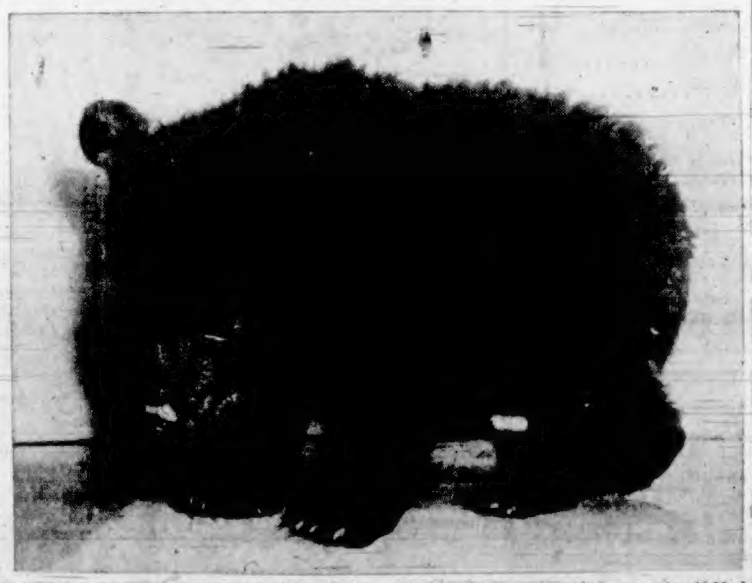

Explosion-fires levelled three farm buildings and stores as well as the Tarrys school during the week-end.

Believed at the root of the trouble is bitterness among the radical Doukhobors that their orthodox counterparts are giving up Old Country customs and adapting themselves to the Canadian way of life. Further, a planned celebration this Summer of the Doukhobors' 50th anniversary of coming to Canada, does not include the Sons of Freedom sect.

Sunshine, Fresh Air Not for Him

Nourished on a bottle with a nipple after his mother was killed at a lumber camp, this four-months-old black bear cub now lives in a small Edmonton hotel. And according to the owner, Ted Hebert, Teddy hates the outdoors. Even sunshine leaves Teddy cold. He'll take his tiny hotel-room den with electric lights, any day.

India Stays in Empire As "Free, Equal" Member

LONDON, April 28 (Thursday) (CP).—In a tense, joint declarrtion, eight Commonwealth countries early today pledged themselves to remain united as "free and equal" members of the world's oldest family of nations.

Thus, in four historic paragraphs, the Commonwealth hurdled one of the most formidable constitutional problems in its history—how to accommodate a monarchy and a republic within the same framework.

The eight-power declaration, made public simultaneously in all Commonwealth capitals, states that India accepts the King as "the symbol of the free association of its (the Commonwealth's) independent member nations and as such the head of the Commonwealth."

Formulated jointly by the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon, the statement said India's continued association with the Commonwealth does not change the basis of membership of other countries, who "accept and recognize India's continuing membership in accordance with the terms of this declaration."

L. B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, who sat with the other statesmen at the round-table meetings where the document was shaped, told The Canadian Press he considered it of historic significance—in effect "a new commonwealth of nations is brought into being."

The declaration was embodied in a statement sketching the background of the Commonwealth Conference which opened last Thursday at 10 Downing Street.

The constitutional problem was the only matter discussed at full sessions, but such topics as Pacific defence and meat supplies for the United Kingdom were taken up by individual Prime Ministers.

The conference had opened in an atmosphere of doubt that India's constitutional dilemma could be solved. But it quickly became apparent from the mood of friendliness which each delegate brought to the conference table that some way out would be found. Last night all representatives expressed complete satisfaction with the proceedings.

New Premier

LESLIE FROST

Ontario Provincial Treasurer since 1943 and well-known barrister, who yesterday was named leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ontario. Mr. Frost, 54, is expected to be sworn in as premier within the next week. He will succeed Hon. T. L. Kennedy, who took over on a temporary basis when George Drew was named national leader of the party.

New Turn in East, West Dealings Under Way, Sources in Moscow Hint

MOSCOW, April 27 (AP).—A feeling that Russia and the three Western Powers may be on their way toward a new stage in postwar mutual relations prevailed today in Moscow.

No one was going so far as to predict settlements, beyond lifting of the Berlin restrictions. But informed diplomats agreed this could be the stepping stone to great events.

Handled correctly and with infinite care by all sides, some sources said, this new state of affairs could lead to an ending of the cold war.

(This dispatch passed through the Moscow censorship. The copy as received in the United States does not show what, if any, excisions were made by the censor).

The skepticism that has usually accompanied new moves in the cold war was lacking in Western quarters today.

"Something is cooking," said an American source. "At this point it doesn't smell bad."

An informant at the British Embassy observed:

"We're knocking on wood."

SITUATION DELICATE

All Western quarters stressed the situation was delicate, and agreed that new steps should be slow and cautious—backed up by a great deal of thought.

The Russians themselves seemed to be proceeding with caution. Neither of the leading newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, made any comment on the new attitude toward the Berlin communications situation. They printed no news of it, either.

Often the papers follow up such communiques as that of Monday night with dispatches from abroad giving foreign reaction. This was not the case today.

Foreign envoys regarded this as a sign of a wait-and-see attitude, pending action by Britain, the United States and France on the proposals to lift the blockades and call a meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council.

Stolen Wire Worth $5,500

Theft of more than six tons of copper wire valued at $5,500 was reported to city police yesterday by the B.C. Telephone Company.

An official said the wire was stolen at Parksville and was in 150-pound coils.

Chiang Calls on Chinese To Fight Reds' Tyranny

SHANGHAI, April 27 (AP). — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek arrived in this Red-menaced city today and urged all Chinese to fight "Communist tyranny."

His dramatic appeal came as two Communist columns moved toward Shanghai and another lanced deeper to the south to cut off the last rail lifeline to the rest of China.

It was a perilous time for Chiang, branded by the Reds as No. 1 "war criminal," to come to Shanghai from his southern retreat at Chikow. The retired president said he spoke only as a citizen.

DOUBLE MENACE

Shanghai was menaced by two [illegible] Asian metropolis from the west and northwest. Already they had taken Soochow, 50 miles to the west, without a fight.

The Shanghai garrison command said Nationalist troops had taken up new positions six miles east of Soochow and that fighting was continuing. Thus the Reds might be only 44 miles west of Shanghai.

A third Communist column was slashing southward from Soochow for the rail junction city of Kashing. Kashing controls the railway from Shanghai to the escape port of Hangchow. This is the only rail line from Shanghai still in Nationalist hands.

PUTUNG NOT TAKEN

A report that Red guerrillas had taken Putung, across the Whangpoo River from Shanghai's business heart, was in error. Communist guerrillas were operating in the area but they had not taken over.

Three ships loaded with Nationalist soldiers, their decks crowded with trucks and planes, left Shanghai, presumably for Formosa. It is on this island that Nationalist China may make its last stand.

The withdrawal of foreigners from threatened Shanghai continued. The United States liner President Wilson is due to sail tomorrow with 250 Americans aboard, cutting the American colony here to about 1,800.

The British Consulate said if fighting broke out in the Shanghai area all British warships would quit the Whangpoo River and sail north to the Yangtze. It said evacuees would have to depend on merchant ships and planes.

C.N.R. Ships, S.I.U. Manned, Resume Trips

By The Canadian Press

Canadian National Steamships resumed its West Indies passenger service, interrupted by the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) strike, and the company said Wednesday all its principal ships now are manned by members of the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

Signing of S.I.U. contracts by Eastern deep-sea shipowners brought about the strike call last March 31 of the left wing C.S.U.

A freighter in Halifax prepared to take on an S.I.U. crew, and in Capetown, South Africa, a C.S.U. crew joined the strike.

SEVEN ARRESTED

A street disturbance in Montreal resulted in warrants for the arrest of seven men, said to be C.S.U. members. The warrants were requested by the S.I.U. and the charges are grievous and common assault.

Longshoremen in Saint John, N.B., received a sharp warning against C.S.U. strikers. Joseph Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), said in New York that unless the aid is stopped the Saint John local may lose its charter.

Ryan also said if the Canadian district of the S.I.U. asks, he will order his union members on the United States side of the Great Lakes to stop working C.S.U.-manned ships.

PICKETS MARCH

C.S.U. pickets marched at half a dozen points along the Montreal waterfront but police reported all quiet.

The freighter Dufferin Bell moved away from her dock in Halifax and preparations were made to put an S.I.U. crew aboard. Her departure will mark the sailing of the sixth S.I.U.-manned vessel from Halifax since the strike began.

Pipe-Line Measure Approved by Senate

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP). — Measures incorporating six companies to transport oil and natural gas in Western Canada received final Senate passage today. From the Upper Chamber they went to the Commons for final consideration.

The companies are Western Pipe Lines, Winnipeg; Interprovincial Pipe-Line Company, Edmonton; Alberta Natural Gas Company, Edmonton; West Coast Transmission Company, Calgary; Trans-Northern Pipe-Line Company, Toronto; and British-American Pipe-Line Company, Toronto.

Boost Quality Of Ice Cream

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP). — Ice cream returned to its prewar quality today.

The Agriculture Department announced a boost of nearly 3 per cent, effective immediately, in the milk-fat content of ice cream, returning it to the prewar standard of a content of at least 13 per cent milk-fat.

Racial Segregation Marriage Ban Set

CAPETOWN, April 27 (Reuters). —Interior Minister T. E. Donges today gave notice in the South African House of Assembly of a motion to prohibit marriages between Europeans and non-Europeans. This is the first legislative measure to implement the Government's policy of racial segregation.

INTERESTING EXCHANGE

NEW GLASGOW, N.S. (CP).—A shipment of heather from Glasgow, is being sent by air this month to New Glasgow. A shipment of 1,000 maple seeds recently was sent to Scotland by the New Glasgow Horticulture Society. The exchange was arranged by Arthur Hambelton, society president, and G. H. Garside, director of parks in Glasgow.

CHALFON ST. GILES, Buckinghamshire, England (CP).—Drying up of the village pond was said to frogs blocking the intake pipe and putting the pumping apparatus out of action.

Strike Ordered

MINNEAPOLIS, April 27 (AP).— Strike orders were issued for midnight tonight to 1,300 Northland Greyround Lines employees in eight states as negotiation of a pay dispute broke down.

U.S. SLIPPING

BERLIN, April 27 (AP). — The United States was dropped from first place to a third-place tie in a German Communist list of "aggressor" countries. The Soviet Army newspaper Taegliche Rundschau today branded France the worst aggressor country of the century. Britain was second and the United States was tied with Italy for third. The newspaper represented the Soviet Union as a tireless friend of peace.

Princess Reaches Italy For One Month's Visit

NAPLES, April 27 (Reuters).—There was brilliant sunshine and a clear blue sky today when Princess Margaret arrived here by plane to start a month's private visit to Italy.

Sir Victor Mallet, British ambassador to Italy, was waiting at Capodichino Airfield when the twin-engined Viking—part of the King's flight—landed.

The 18-year-old princess will spend one night here in a hotel suite overlooking the famous Naples Bay and the slopes of Vesuvius.

GOING TO CAPRI

She leaves for Capri tomorrow by motor launch. Later she will visit Sorrento, Rome, Florence, Venice and Siresa.

At her own wish she will be treated as a private visitor. She will stay in hotels during her tour, except in Rome where she will stay at the British embassy.

The princess' three-roomed suite in Naples was decorated with choice pink roses specially chosen by Italian President Luigi Einaudi—a graceful compliment to her full name, Margaret Rose.

Rome newspapers today warned the "Scugnizzi" (waterfront boys) of Naples not to expect Princess Margaret to follow Neapolitan tradition by throwing gold coins into the bay for them to retrieve.

HAS OFFICIAL ALLOWANCE

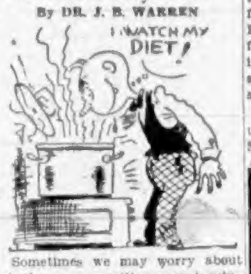

The princess was carrying only £50 ($200)—the official British tourist allowance—the papers said, and would have no money to spare.

As the princess, in a blue-grey [illegible] dress and white straw hat, stepped down from the plane, she was surrounded by about 50 photographers and 100 reporters. She stood smiling shyly as flashlight bulbs popped.

She was then presented with a bouquet of red roses and carnations from the mayor of Naples and officers and men of Naples' naval base.

Complete Diet Obtained From Ordinary Food

By DR. J. B. WARREN

Sometimes we may worry about whether we are getting enough minerals and vitamins. While vitamins and minerals are necessary to health it happens that the ordinary foods we eat every day contain enough of these two food elements. If each day of your life you eat the usual everyday foods — meat, potatoes, bread, other vegetables, (cooked and raw) some fruit (cooked and raw) and milk you have a complete diet including all needed vitamins and minerals.

Mine Official Fatally Shot

ASBESTOS, Que., April 27 (CP).—News of the violent death of a mine official tonight stirred this strike-bound industrial town as it entered the second night of a self-imposed curfew.

The official was R. A. Rainboth, 58-year-old native of Ottawa and chief engineer of Asbestos Corporation at Thetford mines, 50 miles from here in another part of the Eastern townships. Rainboth was found early today fatally wounded in his home with a shotgun nearby and a Provincial Police officer said suicide was indicated.

His company is one of several tied up since February 13 by a strike of 5,000 miners and millworkers demanding a 15-cent increase in their basic wage of 85 cents an hour.

News of the incident reached Asbestos after citizens had gone through their first night of a 1 a.m.-5 a.m. curfew imposed by town council to prevent further outbreaks of vandalism believed connected with the strike.

The Danish flag consisting of a large white cross and a red field, is the oldest unchanged national flag in existence, dating from about 1218.

Air Force Reports "Saucers" Not Joke

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP).—The United States Air Force said officially today the flying saucers "are not a joke."

But in the same breath, the air force said it is convinced from nearly two years of careful study that there are "no alarming probabilities" in the mysterious aerial manifestations.

[illegible] and sober findings have shown simple explanations for many of the things people saw or thought they saw in the sky.

Auto Workers Set to Strike; 65,000 May Quit Ford Plant

DETROIT, April 27 (AP).—Threat of a strike by 63,000 C.I.O. United Auto Workers in Ford Motor Co. plants at Detroit became acute today.

A conference between Ford Company and U.A.W. representatives broke up without settling union "speedup" charges. The Ford auto workers have already voted to strike.

The union's international executive committee meets Thursday to pass upon strike sanction.

SPEEDUP DENIED

At the Wednesday conference, Ford officials denied there was a speedup on company assembly lines and warned the U.A.W. a strike on the issue would be considered a contract violation.

At South Bend, Ind., Federal authorities brought together officials of the U.A.W. and Bendix Aviation Corp. for the first time since 7,500 production workers quit their jobs a week ago. The South Bend dispute resulted from the discharge of 41 Bendix workers charged by the company with a "slowdown."

The Bendix strike cut off supplies of parts to several auto concerns, and resulted in closing up of the Nash-Kelvinator auto plant at Kenosha, Wis.

Kaiser-Frazer announced that its plant at Willow Run, Mich., could not continue to operate without supplies. Packard Motor Co. also said its Detroit assembly lines must shut down Thursday night.

MAKE MORE IDLE

The Packard shutdown will add 8,000 workers to the idle list and bring to 34,000 the number affected by the Bendix stoppage.

Warned of Jap Attack, Airman to Be Honored

WASHINGTON, April 27 (CP).—The Canadian airman who spotted a Japanese fleet off Ceylon in 1942 and flashed a warning which resulted in heavy enemy losses will be honored at an investiture here Friday.

Group Captain Leonard Joseph Birchall, 33, now assistant air attache at the Canadian Embassy, will receive the Distinguished Flying Cross and the award of Officer of the Order of the British Empire.

It was seven years ago this month that Birchall, in a flying boat on patrol in the Indian Ocean, caught sight of the Japanese naval force approaching Ceylon. After signaling the warning to his base, he was shot down and captured. He spent 3½ years as a prisoner of war.

ENABLED PREPARATIONS

The citation accompanying his D.F.C. says "his timely warning enabled preparations to be made which resulted in considerable losses to the enemy."

As senior officer in the prison camps to which he was confined, the second citation reads, Birchall "continually displayed the utmost concern for the welfare of his fellow-prisoners.

"On many occasions, with complete disregard for his own safety, he prevented, as far as possible, Japanese officials . . . from sadistically beating his men and denying prisoners the medical attention which they so urgently needed."

FIRST CHOICE FOR true tomato flavor
. . . Says Dietitian ELEANOR HARRISON of Vancouver
Mrs. Harrison graduated in Home Economics at the University of Alberta. Her experience as a Home Service Consultant to thousands of Western women gives her first-hand knowledge of the food problems of Canadian housewives.
"FROM THE VERY FIRST TASTE, I picked Aylmer Tomato Soup as my first choice for true tomato flavor"—says this well-known Western dietitian. "So it didn't surprise me to learn Aylmer makes this soup as soon as possible after the tomatoes are picked sun-ripe from the vine. For that's when tomatoes taste the best, as every woman knows!
"A delicious and nourishing start for any meal, Aylmer Tomato Soup also makes a tasty sauce for re-heated leftovers—and is excellent in cooking. Try one of my own favorite recipes, Aylmer Tomato Meat Loaf, an inexpensive yet tasty and nourishing main course dish."

AYLMER TOMATO MEAT LOAF
1 lb. hamburger meat; 2 tbsp. finely chopped onion; 1 egg, beaten; 1½ cups cooked noodles; 1 tin Aylmer Tomato Soup; 1 tsp. salt; ½ tsp. pepper
Cook about 3 oz. noodles 8 to 10 minutes in 1¼ quarts boiling water, with 1 tbsp. salt added. Rinse thoroughly in cold water. This makes about 1½ cups cooked noodles. To the hamburger meat, add chopped onion and beaten egg and mix well. Then add 1 tin Aylmer Tomato Soup, salt, pepper, and noodles. Mix thoroughly. Place in a well-greased baking dish. Bake in 400° oven 1¼ hours, the first hour with baking dish covered, then remove cover for last ¼ hour. Serves 6.
ENJOY THE SOUP WITH TRUE TOMATO FLAVOR
Taste Aylmer Tomato Soup—the soup that's FIRST CHOICE with thousands who love good food! It's a real Canadian treat . . . made from Canada's finest tomatoes specially perfected by Aylmer to suit Canadian growing conditions. Drainage By-Law in Oak Bay To Share School Vote Date

Oak Bay's $60,000 drainage by-law will be put to a vote the same date as the school by-laws, A. D. Findlay, municipal clerk, said yesterday.

Date for the school by-law is expected to be decided [illegible] Mr. Findlay said the drainage by-law has been approved by B. C. Bracewell, inspector municipalities.

The plan will improve drainage in the Newport Avenue area from Windsor Park to Central Avenue; the area lying to the south of Lansdowne Road; St. Patrick Street district near Beach Drive; Lorne Terrace and vicinity; east side of the exhibition grounds, and several other smaller sectors.

TO PRESENT CHEQUE

Jack Child, chairman of the recent British Columbia Products '49 Fair of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday his organization will present a cheque for $2,982.94 to the Greater Victoria Community Chest at a special dinner meeting at the Pacific Club tomorrow night. The meeting will start at 6:30.

The cheque, reported Mr. Child, was drawn from proceeds raised during the five-day British Columbia Products Fair held at the Bay Street Armoury in March.

This year's donation to the Community Chest, he added, was about twice that made last year. Officials of both organizations will attend tomorrow night's parley.

CARS COLLIDE

Slight collision between two cars at Quadra and Cook Streets at 6 o'clock was reported by Saanich police last night.

Cars were driven by C. R. Muttlebury, Box 2296 Blenkinsop Road and Vallen Orcutt, 1601 Haultain Street.

Neither driver was injured, police report. Damage was estimated at $100.

Judgment Held In Damage Case

Judgment in a damage suit brought by a Vancouver man against the B.C.E.R.

The man, George R. Clarke, was awarded $1,500 last January 28, by Mr. Justice N. W. Whittaker in Vancouver Supreme Court as a result of injuries suffered in 1943 when his left hand was injured by a street-car door.

He is seeking higher damages.

Liberal Group From Saanich Backs Coalition

A Saanich Liberal Association meeting at Liberal headquarters, Government Street, moved last night to cement the Liberal-Progressive Conservative partnership aimed at continuation of Coalition government in British Columbia.

The meeting unanimously endorsed a motion to invite president and officers of the Saanich Progressive Conservative Association to attend the forthcoming Liberal nominating convention in that area.

Date of the convention was not settled.

Arthur Ash, M.L.A. for Saanich, made a plea for continued support for the Coalition.

"NO ALTERNATIVE"

"Actually there is no alternative," he said. "It is simply a case of free enterprise against socialism."

The speaker scored the C.C.F. party which, he said, had gone on record as being opposed to the Atlantic Pact.

"I know only one country opposed to the pact — Russia," he added.

Mr. Ash formally announced his intention to stand for nomination at the convention.

C. H. Turbull was elected chairman of a political action committee with A. O. Johns and E. R. Cummins as committee members. It was emphasized that the committee was to function on a long-range basis and was not to operate simply as a pre-election body.

Captain Seymour Biggs was honored with a life membership in the association.

Terms C.C.F. 'Nuisance', Pearkes Raps Liberals

The C.C.F. has nothing but nuisance value in the Federal field, declared Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, Federal member for Nanaimo, as he fired his opening gun in the Federal election campaign at a nominating convention of Esquimalt Provincial Progressive Conservatives at Colwood last night.

In a fighting speech, he told the association it would be called upon to select a candidate in his Federal constituency in the next two weeks, and gave an indication of his party's campaign strategy.

The C.C.F., he said, has no chance whatever of forming a government in Canada after the next election.

P.C.'s "ON THE MARCH"

The Conservatives, he declared, were "on the march" all across Canada and the new party leader, George Drew, had risen to stand "like a giant" among the Liberal "pigmies" at Ottawa.

It was fear of Mr. Drew and his party that had "stampeded" the Liberal Government under Mr. St. Laurent into an election when there was no real issue and the Government still had a year to go. It was fear of the consequences of Liberal policies as a result of which market after market had been lost for Canadian products.

The Liberals, he said, had failed to hold the British market. Instead they had gone chasing all over the world for other markets which had now fallen flat. Whereas there were 24 markets for poultry a year ago there were now only four. In 1947 Canada sold 66,000 hundredweight of poultry to Britain at $20 a hundredweight but last year only 800 pounds, while the British were now buying the same grade of poultry from Hungary at $60.

Prime Minister St. Laurent had hoped by calling an early election to catch the Conservatives off balance, said Maj.-General Pearkes, but they were ready.

Mr. St. Laurent, he said, should be in London at the present, not in Western Canada trying "to save his political skin."

He should be attending the conference with all the other prime ministers of the Commonwealth to discuss the important question of India entering the Commonwealth, how to retain Commonwealth markets and the part North America is to play in the Atlantic Pact.

"These are problems which cannot be settled at Saskatoon or Regina," he declared.

Mayor Backs Campaign For Clean-Up

Mayor Percy E. George yesterday urged public support of the Junior Chamber of Commerce annual "paint-up, clean-up" campaign to be held in Victoria May 1 to 7.

"The annual paint-up, clean-up campaign is one which I heartily commend, and at the same time, feel that the spirit of civic consciousness brought out in such a campaign should not rest merely for the week of that appeal, but citizens should further that civic consciousness by taking pride in endeavoring to keep the city's streets as free of rubbish as possible," declared Mayor George.

The mayor noted that motorists often throw rubbish from cars on city streets, giving them an untidy and dirty appearance. In view of the fact that Victoria is a growing mecca for tourists, Mayor George said citizens should do everything in their power to enhance the appearance of their streets.

He called on citizens to get behind the Junior Chamber in its endeavor to paint-up and clean-up Victoria.

Week Marks Kindness To Animals

Week of May 1 to 7 was officially proclaimed "be kind to animals week" by Mayor Percy E. George yesterday.

"Victoria in the past several years has joined with other cities in Canada and the United States in observance of 'kindness to animals week,'" declared Mayor George. "Humane consideration of animals has long marked our country as leader in this noble cause. Animals have often proved to be man's best friend and therefore worthy of his care and kindly treatment."

The mayor said love of justice, fair-play and kindness should be developed in the minds and hearts of children and urged special effort be made to observe the week in all city schools.

"As a great people are always a kind people, the importance of this recognition of justice and mercy to dumb animals cannot be overstressed in our land," stated Mayor George.

"Be kind to animals week" is sponsored by the Victoria S.P.C.A.

Local Artists Display Work In Yearly Show

An exhibition of art, which features more than 100 oil and water color paintings by local artists, is on display this week at the Arts Centre on Broughton Street.

The occasion marks the 28th annual exhibition of the Vancouver Island Arts and Crafts Society, and includes exhibits of pottery, jewelry, needlework and wood carving.

Dr. John M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College, officially opened the exhibition earlier this week.

He pointed out that generally speaking the artists had adhered to the sound principles of art.

Doukhobors Have Exhausted Public Patience

RENEWED outbreaks of violence by Doukhobor factions in the Kootenay district, inevitably accompanied by burnings, dynamiting and destruction of property, reopen a serious problem that has confronted the authorities in British Columbia off and on for nearly half a century.

These latest manifestations of blatant disregard for constituted authority serve to show that despite Royal Commission investigations and the past prosecution and jailing of troublemakers, the problem of maintaining law and order wherever fanatical elements of the Doukhobors congregate remains as far from solution as ever. The chronicle of terrorism within recent years especially, with its bombings, burnings, midnight raids and acts of unrestrained violence, puts a blot on the name of the province.

The rights of peaceable residents of the districts affected demand immediate and stern measures to end the uprising before they reach the proportions of an insurrection. In reinforcing Provincial Police at the scene of the disturbances and in securing emergency assistance from the R.C.M.P., Attorney-General Wismer appears to have done all that lies within his power at the moment, and it is to be hoped that the show of force will have salutary effect. At best, however, it can bring only a temporary sense of security to the district, leaving a permanent solution to the problem of law enforcement still to be found. Under existing laws that may not be easy.

Some Matters Are Beyond Party Credit

THE weeks are near when honeyed phrases will be couched to woo the favor of the electors. No party will have a monopoly of promises for the future, or of asserted credits for virtuous conduct in the past. Each will vie with the other in glossing its own mistakes while condemning those of its opponents. All this is habitual and traditional to the Canadian political scene, and perhaps does no great harm. Voters have long since learned how to apply the grain of salt to extravagant party claims.

It is slightly surprising, nevertheless, to find Mr. St. Laurent listing among five main reasons for his re-election two matters which most people would consider to have been outside the bounds of individual party credit. One of them, the union with Newfoundland, can scarcely be a purely Liberal achievement, since the initial approach came from the Ancient Colony, and as a nation Canada waited since Confederation to welcome the tenth province. The result would have been the same no matter what administration was at Ottawa, nor is it likely that the terms of union would have been any less attractive had they been proffered by either Mr. Drew or Mr. Coldwell.

The Atlantic Pact is equally above party levels; was indeed subscribed to most heartily by all of the Canadian Parliament, as the Prime Minister demonstrated by crossing the floor of the House to congratulate the Opposition when this measure was approved. The course of world events would have forced Canadian participation no matter what the political complexion of those holding the reins of power at Ottawa. On the national scale credit for these two matters may fairly be divided among all groups contesting the Federal election. For the rest, Mr. St. Laurent has the same privileges as his opponents in seeking to persuade electors that his party should be the nation's choice.

Blowing North and South on Housing Issue

IT is not clear what Saanich stands to gain by selling dollar lots to veterans on the one hand, and on the other refusing to sanction the erection of 152 houses by the Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation, which stands ready to finance and put through the group undertaking with roads, sewers and other services. The objection of Saanich to a period of fixed taxation for a few years, so that rental levels can be determined, is blocking a real community need.

Other municipalities in the Greater Victoria area are making the concession asked by the Federal corporation, weighing the immediate gain that will accure through settlement of some of the housing pressure. If it is good business for Victoria and Esquimalt to do so for the benefit of married veterans in the Greater Victoria area, surely Saanich cannot lose by following suit. The present holdout if it is persisted in will be a serious setback to housing plans in the larger community, as rehabilitation officials have stressed.

Escape of Prisoners Calls for Explanation

NO doubt there will be a searching inquiry into the successful break for liberty made by three prisoners on Tuesday while en route from Victoria to Oakalla. The circumstances so far made public suggest that there must have been an error of judgment somewhere to place four prisoners, three of them desperate men, in a position to overpower their single escort.

In the close quarters of a cell ten feet square aboard the ferry steamer one policeman, even though armed, stood little chance against four men. It is beside the point that the fourth prisoner took no part in the escape; the odds were there. Moreover, it was known that one of the four was serving sentence for robbery with violence, a factor which should have served to increase alertness against any possible attempt to break for freedom. The wisdom of the officer entering the cell without support is very much open to question.

"It's the same thing without mechanical problems."

Observation Car: By G. B.

TWO urchins arguing about the merits of a certain player caused considerable annoyance to spectators during a Sunday football game at Beacon Hill Park. After several pointed remarks had been directed at them, one lad said to the other: "I guess we better quit arguing." The second replied: "My pop says I like to argue just like my mom. They got into a big argument last night about Ulster." The first boy asked: "What's Ulster?" After a few seconds' thought, his companion answered: "I ain't quite sure, but I guess that's where they send guys who get 'Ulserated stomachs." . . . "The progress made by science since we were boys is absolutely amazing," a customer remarked to Tobacconist Martin. "Quite so. Scientists can do wonders with atomic energy, but they cannot design a five-room house the average family can afford," Martin answered. . . . After an argument in the barber shop, Barber Ben said to Bill, the Broad Street barber, "You must admit that I have a good aim in life." Bill turned on his broad Lancashire grin and retorted: "Yes, but you have no ammunition. That reminds me of my trip Up-Island last Summer. After wading through a cup of weak coffee and apple pie with a two-inch crust, I noticed a sign reading 'We Aim to Please,' hanging above the cash register in a small village restaurant. I paid my bill and remarked to the waitress, 'So you aim to please? Take it from an expert on good coffee and apple pie, you are rather poor shots in this place.'" . . . From the Keating Squire: "We cannot get away from the fact that Canada still needs popular government at popular prices."

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

APROPOS the discussion in this column about the King James version of the Bible (Colonist, April 3), C.B. cites it as an example that long words are not necessary to meritorious literary effort. According to an analysis he quotes, an average of slightly less than four and a half letters per word are required to phrase this masterpiece. That should be humbling to all who put pen to paper.

The trouble with most minor scribes, including this column, is that it seems much easier to fall back on the big word than to sparkle with plain, everyday language. It takes a master to put common or garden words in arresting sequence.

C.B., incidentally, has four different English versions and one French version of the Bible with which he is familiar, but he still prefers the King James edition. Most people do, I fancy.

* * *

Commenting on what he calls the "so-called" plan to hunt for Noah's Ark and my whimsy at the expense of Pravda (Colonist, April 17), C.J.C. suggests that if I am really as naive as I sound I should read a book now and then.

That's quite an idea; why didn't I think of it myself? I feel sure books must be sold somewhere in Victoria. He remarks that a pretty good one on the topic in question — international intrigue—is "The Great Conspiracy." I feel sure also of what that one is about, but if he cares to send it along I'll be glad to peruse it and thus (perhaps) cure my naivetie.

* * *

On the subject of radio comedians (Colonist, April 20), J.F. writes to say "Hear, hear." A certain Sunday evening program of familiar music also comes in for his distaste, I gather, particularly the announcer with "his go-to-meeting voice." Poor announcers. I'm afraid most of us are a bit hard to please. It's true, of course, that one does not need to be able to lay an egg in order to appraise the value of one once the shell is broken. But . . .

* * *

M.P. also writes to express his views about Jack Benny's program, which he classifies as "awful," although it is only fair to add that two friends of mine chided me severely for criticising their favorite radio star. To each his own, I suppose. M.P. thinks "those appalling Moaning Minnies and sloppy male singers" are equally abnoxious, perhaps because the airwaves are never free of them. Crooning seems to be the height of musical ambition these days.

* * *

Harking back to remarks in this space about slogans (Colonist, November 26), F.R. defines these slick captions as "cunningly devised phrases devoid of any real meaning, but capable of giving a pleasing lead to any idea the hearer or reader has in his own predilection."

One in particular that annoys him is "production for use, not for profit," and with some point he asks: "For the use of whom, and not to profit whom? Production for other than the producer, but not for the producer's profit, may be altruistic and heroic but would lead to bankruptcy and probaby to jail for the poor producer, while the user would wax fat!"

Slogans can be misleading—some of them probably are coined with that end in view—and F.R. puts his finger on one of the most glaring examples.

Who Owns These Resources?

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Disputes in the sphere over ownership of resources below the sea are of interest indirectly to British Columbia, where title to the Continental Shelf extending westward from the Pacific Coast remains to be determined.

GALVESTON, Texas — Attorney-General Tom Clark is a loyal Texan, which means a lot in this proud state. He is also a loyal member of President Truman's Cabinet, which means a lot to Tom Clark. In the latter role it becomes his duty to represent the Government before the Supreme Court in support of a petition to file suit against Texas and Louisiana for recognition of the Federal Government's paramount right to the off-shore lands of those two states.

Two years ago, Clark filed and argued a similar suit against California and won a favorable decision. This one, however, involves not only the uncomfortable task of opposing the organized sentiment of his native state, but of confronting the legal claims of Texas, which are undoubtedly much stronger than those of any other tidewater state.

Whenever Clark returns to Texas, he is met by the aggressive attitude of Governor Jester, of Price Daniel, attorney-general of the state, of the predominant editorial opinion of the press and of other articulate forces.

Clark answers by pointing out that he is merely performing his duty to his client, the United States of America, the President thereof, the 48 states and territories of the Union.

* * *

That, however, does not mitigate the strength of the language of Texans who are fighting the United States in this proceeding.

Governor Jester said recently: "If the Attorney-General of the United States files this suit against Texas for its submerged lands in the Gulf, he is preempting the authority of the Congress to affirm or break annexation agreements made with Texas when it entered the Union. If the Federal Government can nationalize the land, minerals and other things along the coast of the state, it can nationalize them in the interior."

Attorney-General Daniel has said that the United States would not give this kind of treatment to an enemy nation.

* * *

In addition to the general contention of all tidewater states that the states own the resources of the submerged land, Texas has another claim. The Republic of Texas, prior to admission in 1845, set its boundaries by act of its congress three marine leagues into the Gulf of Mexico. When Texas was admitted to the Union, the Congress of the United States agreed that she should retain title to this land, including bays, rivers and the bed of the Gulf adjoining the state. Later, the Legislature of Texas by law extended that boundary 65 miles. There is considerable dispute about the exact mileage involved in "three marine leagues." Some say 10½ miles; others claim more. But in any event, they include submerged land in which valuable oil and gas are located and which can conceivably be profitably extracted.

Private oil companies, except for the matter of state pride and fear of Federal control, are not primarily involved in this fight. They must in any case pay royalties to either State or Federal Government.

No Two-Headed Men

By THOMAS R. HENRY
Science Editor, North American Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON. — There is little danger of a race of two-headed or twelve-toed men a few thousand years hence as a result of hereditary changes produced by atomic radiations.

While the subject is debatable, the best evidence accumulated to date by Atomic Energy Commission scientists is that radiation will not significantly increase the human mutation rate.

In some quarters, says Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the commission, there is being held out the "horrible prospect" of a world peopled by men with two or three heads. There are some who tell us that in their opinion the mass radiation at Hiroshima and Nagasaki will cause more deaths hundreds of years hence than there were at the time of the bomb drops. This is attributed to the cumulative effect of radiation on the tiny particle, the chromosomes, which carry heredity from generation to generation.

"It is true that radiations can effect inheritance. Experiments with plants and lower animals show this. But the best evidence we have to date is that in human beings in general radiation will not significantly increase the rate of these mutations."

Studies of the survivors in the Japanese cities, atomic energy commission doctors say, thus far have failed to show any increase whatsoever in abnormal children, any increase of still births or leukemia.

Human beings, it is stressed, are being irradiated all the time—by ultra-violet light, cosmic rays, and the like—with the result that there is a constant low level of mutations. These seldom are continued into the next generation because they are fatal to their victims. It is well known that such diseases as German measles and chicken pox also cause mutations, and it is not likely that artificial radiation effects will be much greater over a prolonged period.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IT is reported that it will be fifty years before the last of the dud bombs that fell on Berlin can be safely written off as being no longer public hazards. In the unparalleled ruin and destruction of Berlin, hundreds, possibly thousands of unexploded bombs are hidden. Years from now, contractors peaceably at work on foundations for new apartment houses or five and ten stores will be blown sky high. It is certainly going to take Germany longer to forget the last war than it did the one previous.

The oldest case of a dud exploding occurred a few years agoin a Toronto club. The gentlemen members of this club were inclined to be a little conscious of the past—a characteristic of most clubs that have easy chairs. The house committee decided it would be an attractive feature if, in the main lounge, they had an ornamental wall display of semi-antique firearms, and they settled for a nice, fan-shaped collection of old muskets, with bayonets fixed, such as were used by the troops in the Fenian Raid, the Riel Rebellion and pre-Boer War operations. The display was purchased from a dealer in such salvage, and set up. It grew attractively dusty. In a few years it looked as if it had been there since the Fenian Raid, just as if the founders of the club had, themselves, hung up their trusty muskets after having preserved the nation from the foe.

One day, with a terrific bang, one of the old muskets discharged itself. It just about killed half the club membership with heart attacks. There is not and has never been a proper explanation of the miracle. The ancient black powder, the fulminate of mercury in the old fashioned primer of the shell accidentaly left in the weapon, should have perished years before. The old musket did not fail, was subjected to no jolt or jar. It just went off with a perfectly irrational, lawless, wilful bang.

Today's Answer

No. Spring tides come every two weeks when the moon is full, and when it is new. At new and full moon the tidal action of both sun and moon is exerted on the same side of the earth and causes higher tides than usual. The opposite effect is produced when the earth is directly between the moon and the sun (at first and last quarter of the moon). Then the tidal pull of the sun and the moon are from opposite directions and, therefore cancel out. A minimum tide known as the "neap tide" results.

BRITISH POLICY

Sir,—Having returned from a visit to the United States it is only now that I have seen Mr. F. G. Roe's reply to my letter on the British nationalized railways. I feel that an acknowledgment is due Mr. Roe's courteous comments, particularly since he apparently attributes the statements made to me rather than to the railwaymen of Britain as expressed through their Union Review.

When writing I had no thought of political implications, but desired rather to emphasize what surely must be a recognized fact, that among man's most vital assets his loyalties must be ranked as among the highest. It is these loyalties which stand in jeopardy. Indeed they have been seriously undermined as they must always be where by a bare majority a minority inflicts its will upon a nation or any great enterprise. One of the gravest mistakes of this age is to be found in the assumption that the greater the concentration of power the greater the efficiency. Here too, is surely one of the strangest of contradictions of Socialism, which destroys one supposed monopoly merely to set up another which, whatever party may be in power, must always be subject to the party machine, and not to the "will of the people." The use of the minimum political majority represents a challenge to Democracy second only to that of Communism.

The present Government in Great Britain gained power by a vote of approximately 39% of the British electorate. Such a vote did not constitute a mandate to "revolutionise" either the country's economic life or its political constitution. In matters of such portent it is imperative that the great mass of the people shall approve and actively support the changes involved . . .

The Steel Bill in question was carried by a considerable majority of the members but on the basis of the votes cast at the general election in 1945, the total vote of "the people" for the bill was 12,107,547, while that cast against it was 12,334,178. Here surely is no mandate for the disruption of a great industry which has repeatedly smashed all records and the constantly increased Government "targets." To achieve such results loyalty of workers and managements to their individual companies has played and is still playing an invaluable part, yet as in the case of the railways these loyalties are about to be discarded and successful operation subjected to the caprice of the party in power . . .

To Life

O Life with the sad seared face,
I weary of seeing thee,
And thy draggled cloak, and thy hobbling pace,
And thy too-forced pleasantry!

I know what thou would'st tell
Of Death, Time, Destiny—
I have known it long, and know, too, well
What it all means for me.

But can'st thou not array
Thyself in rare disguise,
And feign like truth, for one mad day
That Earth is Paradise?

I'll tune me to the mood,
And mumm with thee till eve:
And maybe what as interlude
I feign, I shall believe!

Says Paper Describes Spy Efforts

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP).—An F.B.I. agent swore today that paper seized in the pocketbook of 27-year-old Judith Coplon, on trial for espionage, told of her alleged efforts to snatch a "top secret F.B.I. report" summarizing Soviet spy activities.

Robert R. Granville, supervisory [illegible] agent in New York, said in a statement filed by the prosecution that more than 30 "data slips" were found in the handbag when Miss Coplon and a Russian engineer attached to United Nations were arrested March 4.

F.B.I. REPORTS

Granville said the slips contained extracts from F.B.I. reports on the operations of suspected espionage agents in the United States.

He said other memoranda found in the purse included a brief statement of Miss Coplon's post-graduate educational background. She is a Cum Laude graduate of Barnard College.

Furthermore, he said, it contained background information "concerning three potential recruits for espionage service."

Granville said the exact language of Miss Coplon's alleged account of her attempt to bag a prize F.B.I. secret was as follows:

"I have not been able (and I don't think I will) to get the top secret F.B.I. report which I described to Michael on Soviet and Communist intelligence activities in the United States.

ASKED WHEREABOUTS

"When the moment was favorable, I asked Foley where the report was (he previously had remarked that he'd seen such a report). He said that some departmental official had it and he didn't expect to get it back.

"Foley remarked there was nothing new in it. When I saw the report, for a minute, I breezed through it rapidly. Remember very little."

The man "Michael" named as the person to whom she described her efforts was not further identified. William E. Foley was Miss Coplon's boss when she worked in the Justice Department. The F.B.I. has its headquarters in the Justice Department Building here where Miss Coplon was employed.

German Unity Unlikely Despite Russia's Offer

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

While the United States seeks to pin down Russia's reported willingness to end the Berlin blockade, observers are studying the effect of the offer in two important quarters — the U.S. Congress and the German Parliamentary council at Bonn.

There were signs in Washington that some members of Congress, already worried by the cost of re-arming Western Europe, were being influenced by the prospect that some of the tension might be taken out of the cold war.

LITTLE HOPE OF UNITY

The Western Germans, warned that there was little or no prospect for a unified Germany in any event, appeared to be going ahead with plans on a Federal Government. They were being watched closely, however, for any sign of stalling in the hope of some development at a Big Four conference. Even temporary acceptance of the fact of Germany's division is a bitter dose, and carries a political onus which no German likes to bear.

The Allies, however, are determined to push the new Government through. Then they will have an accomplished fact that the Russians can haggle over as it might apply to the resumption of Four-Power control of all Germany.

ALLIES HOLD INITIATIVE

If the foreign ministers should meet before the Government is established, any changes they agreed upon could be made. If, as seems more likely, an agreement proves impossible, Allied plans would be disrupted. For once, due to the backfiring of the Russian blockade, the Allies have the initiative. And for once, due to alleviation of France's fears regarding Germany by the Atlantic Pact, the Allies present a fully united front.

But for France that security is represented merely by an informal agreement which needs Senate approval and rearmament to give it reality. France and the other Western countries will not be entirely sure of themselves until everything is signed, sealed and the delivery of arms begin. Any faltering now on the part of the United States will bring a return of French jitters and a reduction in the extent of her co-operation on the German question.

The propaganda effect of Russia's apparent willingness to see some easing of current tension has led to suspicion that she has no real intention of even lifting the blockades. But if it were only propaganda it would backfire after causing only slight delay in Allied plans. Failure to lift the blockade now would harden Allied policy and produce redoubled defense activity.

In this whole series of events, from the time Stalin said he was ready to talk to Truman, Russia has not been taking the initiative as would be the case in a calculated propaganda move, but has been responding to Allied inquiries.

It might be, of course, merely that the Allies have provided the opportunity. All the evidence, however, is that Russia, faced with the airlift, the Atlantic Pact, the Western German Government and growing anti-Communist strength, has decided (although strictly for the time being) that she has "had enough."

Drew Tells Prime Minister Liberals on Way Out — To Stay

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP).—An hour of sparring for campaign advantage in the Commons today gave a foretaste of the general election shaping up for voting in June—probably June 27.

Earlier, after the final Liberal Party caucus of the session, Prime Minister St. Laurent expressed belief that he would form a new government with a heavily-increased majority.

In the House exchange, dealing with procedure, George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, to an accompaniment of jeers and laughter from Government ranks, expressed a different view.

"You are on the march—out of here, and you will stay out," Mr. Drew told the Liberal members. He said his party welcomed the chance to test the people's will in a general election.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, former Prime Minister and one of the most astute Liberal politicians, attended today's caucus, bade fellow members farewell and declared his full support for Mr. St. Laurent. He will not contest the next election.

It was apparent Mr. King approved the party's plan to have Parliament dissolved this week-end and call a general election.

National Liberal Federation headquarters today announced the party would contest 261 of the 262 seats which will make up the next Parliament.

The federation did not disclose the seat which would not be contested, but it was assumed to be Comox-Alberni in British Columbia where the Independent member, J. L. Gibson, usually supports the Government.

In the absence of any clear-cut issue, it seems likely that the campaign as between the two old parties will be an appeal as between personalities — Prime Minister St. Laurent, 67, and George Drew, 55. Both are fighting their first general election battles as leaders.

Shake-Up Near In Montreal

MONTREAL, April 27 (CP).—A sudden mushrooming of book-making establishments brought persistent reports tonight of an imminent shake-up in the morality squad of Montreal's police force.

Reliable sources said there was a possibility Police Director Albert Langlois himself would take over supervision of the squad.

Although the reports said the change would bring a sharp increase in the morality squad's strength, probably doubling it, there was no indication that the bookies are doing business on the grand scale they did in the days of Harry Ship.

The move, if it materializes, will mark the first drastic shakeup since Pacifique Plante's successful clean-up was climaxed by his dismissal as assistant director.

It was less than a year ago that Plante was ousted by the city's executive committee for "insubordination."

Urges Huge Trust Fund For Youth Movement

A startling $10,000,000 trust fund for the Empire Youth Movement was suggested in Victoria last night by founder and world organiser Major F. J. Ney.

Addressing a meeting of youth leaders of this city, Major Ney said that it was time the rest of the world stopped throwing pebbles against the "Iron Curtain."

"What we need," he said, "is a major youth movement comparable to the youth movements of Communist countries, with all the glamour and drama capitalised by those governments, but marching to church instead of to the Red Square."

A revivified and enlarged Empire Youth Movement could own its own ships, its own planes, the major stated.

BINDING POWER

"It can and should be a power to bind the Empire—the Commonwealth. But it should be given ideals to believe in—just as youth in Nazi Germany were given an ideal. Only in this case the ideal will not be a mistaken one."

"Youth today doesn't want a candle, it wants a torch," he said.

Pending approval by organisations and departments, the representatives present enthusiastically endorsed the principle of the youth movement.

Major-General C. R. Stein was appointed head of a Victoria committee to promote the Empire Youth Movement.

Given top priority on the organization program was the promotion of Empire Youth Sunday, May 29, on a scale comparable to that of cities in Australia and South Africa.

PLAN RALLY

Tentative plans were discussed for a rally and parade of youth groups in Victoria, followed by special services in the churches.

Major Ney told the meeting that he had been promised full support of the Department of Education, which had agreed to distribute Empire Youth Movement literature in the schools.

Present at the meeting were leading representatives of Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council, Girl Guides, Canadian Services College, Y.W.C.A., Victoria College, Victoria High School, private schools in the city, Boy Scouts, and other departments and associations.

Export Boost For Rye Seen

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP).—A big jump in exports of Canadian rye to the United States is in the making this year.

The export year doesn't end until July 31, but Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures show that up to the end of February—covering the first seven months of the crop year—more than 3,000,000 bushels of Canadian rye went to the United States. This compared with only 41,460 bushels for the whole of the previous year.

In Washington, Senator Milton Young, Republican, from North Dakota, said in an interview he felt imports from Canada account for the fact that American rye is selling at prices below the support levels set by the United States Government. The Canadian Government does not support rye prices.

The Senator went on to urge that imports of rye from Canada be reduced. He admitted, however, that his suggestions had not met with much enthusiasm.

Most Canadian rye goes to Europe where it is used more for food than is the custom in North America. In Canada and the United States most of it is used for distilling, while in Europe a large amount goes into production of rye flour.

American Stakes First Uranium Claim Deep in Jungles of British Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, April 27 (CP).—Vast beds of uranium-bearing ores have been discovered deep in the steamy interior of this British colony in South America.

An American has staked out the first claim. The British Guiana Government has given John Younglove Cole of New York exclusive rights to search for radioactive ores in the two-square-mile area in the Kanuku Mountains.

HIGHLY RADIOACTIVE

Cole's move followed closely the recent discovery by a hinterland rancher of the uranium-bearing mineral euxenite in Rapununi District, near the Brazil border. Samples of ore found in the area are said to be highly radioactive.

Exploration for radioactive minerals in the colony is expected to be speeded up following two recent developments.

Last month, British Guiana was allotted $650,000 from a fund set up under the Colonial Development Act to complete geological mapping of the colony and investigation of its mineral resources.

OFFERS TO BUY

Recently the British Ministry of Supply offered to buy all uranium ores and concentrates produced in the colonies during the next 10 years.

Mining and government sources here expect other adventurous investors will soon follow Cole's lead and head into the mineral-bearing mountain country.

Another strategic mineral discovered in the colony is monazite. This radioactive mineral has a high content of thorium, used in the atomic energy process.

IN RIVER BEDS

So far, monazite has been found only in microscopic grains in the beds of rivers throughout the country. Other deposits have been discovered in India and in black sands deposits on Brazil beaches.

Imports of monazite into the United States have come largely from Brazil. In 1943, the United States imported 5,000 tons of the mineral. Monazite is used in so many chemical processes, it is classed as an "all-purpose" mineral.

Labor-Saving Gadgets Win U.K. Housewives

LONDON, April 27 (NANA).—American visitors, who in the past often wondered why the British housewife never bothered about household labor-saving gadgets, would be surprised if they could see the rapid transformation that is taking place now.

Iceboxes and washing machines, which were almost unheard of before the war, are now being installed as a matter of course in most new housing developments. This is only a beginning. British manufacturers have discovered that there is a world markets for labor-saving gadgets and they are going into the exporting of them in a big way.

RADIO OVEN

British housewives are reaping the benefit of the research. In many cases some of the new devices have not yet appeared on the American market. A "radio" oven, for example, can cook in five minutes a complete, nourishing breakfast to give the children before they go to school.

If there is fish for breakfast, all Mrs. Smith would then have to do would be to place the fish between two thin metal plates or electrodes and switch on. Heat in the radio oven rises to 120 degrees centigrade in one minute.

When cleaning the house, the housewife can use a new machine that beats carpets at the same time as it acts as a vacuum cleaner, washes and polishes floors and does not cause the user the slightest exertion.

DOMESTIC BOILER

In the kitchen she can have a domestic boiler equipped with an automatic "brain" which thermostatically controls the fire, reducing it to not more than 10 per cent of normal fuel consumption when the desired heat is reached.

She can also have the latest electric kitchen aid which can be described as an "electrical maid-of-all-work." Hanging on the kitchen wall, the appliance, just over a foot high and seven inches in diameter, is operated by a motor transmitting power through an insulated wire to a variety of special attachments; it scrubs pots and pans with a rotary brush, cleans shoes, brushes clothes, kneads dough and beats eggs. It is even equipped with four rails to dry towels.

Other kitchen aids available to the housewife include an apparatus for peeling and chipping potatoes, slicing bread, mincing meat, sharpening and polishing knives and squeezing lemons. A little metal triangle dropped into the bottom of a saucepan will rattle and warns Mrs. Smith when the contents boil. It also prevents burning by causing the liquid to rotate in the reverse direction.

ELECTRIC DINNER WAGON

If Mrs. Doakes of Britain has no children and her flat is too small to have a separate dining-room, she can use a new type of dinner wagon which converts into a table for two, the centre being provided with a heating element. Two auxiliary outlets fitted to the side provide power for an electric toaster, a kettle or a coffee percolator.

The washing-up can be done by a machine which automatically washes, rinses and completely dried the dishes, and cutlery. All that need be done is to change an inner tube. The washer-up's hands never come in contact with water and there are no plumbing or installation costs.

Normal Fear Said Common To All Pilots

LONDON, April 27 (CP).—An air force psychologist challenges two legends about combat flyers: that they are fearless dare-devils and that another flight immediately after a crash is best for a man's nerves.

Dr. David Stafford-Clark, an R.A.F. psychologist, who during four years of wartime lived and flew with R.A.F. fighter and bomber crews, has reported his observations in The Journal of Mental Science.

He says even the most reliable pilots always were afraid. Devil-may-care types who had a good line at the mess bar, he says, usually gave up soonest.

WEIGHED CHANCES

They were less impressive in action than men who had coolly weighed the hazards, the only way to endure the strain and keep going back for more.

Both types, on a tour of 30 flights against the enemy, started at peak morale because of the novelty and excitement. Between five and 10 flights was "crack-up level" for both.

By the 12th or 13th sortie usually had seen at least one bomber downed in flames, perhaps even with friends.

CLOSE TO DEATH

"He had probably never been so consciously close to death in his life before," says the doctor.

Glamor boys usually stopped flying there. The more reliable man who had measured the task and his own ability for it kept going.

Even he, however, never again reached the top morale of his initial sorties. But he recovered from the slump and rose progressively until the 22nd flight when again decline set in. Normally they were grounded after 30 sorties.

RETURNED TO JOBS

It was not uncommon for men to weep, Stafford-Clark said, when they went to confess their fear to the medical officer. Nor was it unusual for men to return to their jobs as soon as they learned that fellow crew-members often were as scared as they were.

"So strong was the spirit in Bomber Command," he wrote, "that it was not uncommon for a man to volunteer for ten extra trips so that he and his crew would finish together if he had joined with more flights to his credit than they had."

As for flying again as soon as possible after crashes, Stafford-Clark says that a short rest "is more likely to help a man regain his nerve."

OL' MISTAH BUZZARD STARTS A STORY

"Ah tell you what," said Grandaddy Buzzard to Granny Buzzard.

Do you wonder that Ol' Mistah Buzzard was indignant when Peter Rabbit blurted out such a personal question? You remember Peter had asked him right out if it was true that he was shiftless. Then Peter had gone on to explain that he had heard that said, and all because the Buzzards had no nest. At first Ol' Mistah Buzzard was tempted to [illegible] and tell him just what he thought of people who gossip about others and their personal affairs, but Peter looked so innocent of any intention to meddle, and so truly puzzled that Ol' Mistah Buzzard promptly recovered his good nature.

"Mah affairs are really no business of yours, Br'er Rabbit, and Ah reckons yo' know it, but just to set your mind at rest Ah'm going to tell yo' a story," said he.

At this, Peter pricked up his ears and settled himself contentedly. He had heard Ol' Mistah Buzzard tell stories and he knew that a story from him was bound to be interesting whether it was true or not.

"Ah'm, not saying that this is the true reason why my family doesn't build nests," began Ol' Mistah Buzzard with a twinkle in his eyes. "But it is a story that done been handed down to uns from away back at the beginning of things when the world was young. It was in the days when Granny and Grandaddy Buzzard, the first of mah family, lived and everybody was learning or trying to learn how to live. Yo' see in those days nobody knew just what was best to do. Everybody was trying to work out fo' himself what was best, and learning something every day. Of course everybody made mistakes, lots of them, Grandaddy and Granny Buzzard just like the rest, and it was because of one of these mistakes that they didn't have a nest like the rest of the birds.

"Yo' see when the first nesting season came round and Ol' Mother Nature passed the word along fo' all the birds to prepare places fo' their eggs and young, there were most as many ideas as there was kinds of birds. Each pair had their own idea of what a nest should be made of and where it should be put, and fo' awhile there was a right smart lot of confusion. Yes, sah, there was a right smart lot of confusion.

"Ol' Grandaddy and Granny Buzzard were naturally easy going. It was powerful warm down there where they lived, and Ah reckons it looked to them plumb foolish to do any mo' work than they had to. Building nests was new to everybody and nobody knew the best way of going about it.

"'Ah tell yo' what,' says Grandaddy Buzzard to Granny Buzzard, 'we-uns don't know how to build a nest. Everybody else has got a different idea and Ah reckons we-uns haven't any idea at all. Ah don' see any sense in getting all heated up and tired out trying to do something when we-uns don' know what it is we want, so Ah reckons we-uns will just sit tight and watch our neighbors. When they have got their nests built we-uns will just go around and see which one we like best and which is easiest to build and then we'll build one like it.' This suited Ol' Granny Buzzard and she wasn't a mite slow in saying so.

"Excuse me, Br'er Rabbit. Here come Mrs. Buzzard and Ah reckons she wants to see me about something in particular. If yo' will wait here Ah will finish mah story when Ah comes back."

With this, off flew Ol' Mistah Buzzard, leaving Peter to wait as patiently as he could for the end of the story.

Next Story: Ol' Mistah Buzzard finishes his tale.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THAT WORD "PALM" — Which "Palm" Came First— the Hand or the Tree?

In ancient Greece the palm was used as a lineal measure equal to 3 inches; in Rome there were two measures, the "greater palm" and the "lesser palm"; in other countries the reckoning has varied, but it has remained a measure, as so many hands to figure a horse's height. However, in common speech the word has two meanings—the palm of the hand and the name of the palm tree. Which came first?

The world's derivation is from the Old English "paume," through the French, from the Latin "palma." And the Greek source of all this has kinship with the Sanskrit "pani," hand. There you have how it started.

Now the tree of the order Palmae or Palmaceae—the Palm Tree—also goes back to the Latin Palma, by way of the Old English or Anglo-Saxon "palm." Thus the tree takes its name from the palm of the hand, being so called because of the resemblance of its leaves to the human hand!

But Mrs. Homemaker, WHAT ABOUT PRICES THAT ARE NOT IN THE ADS?

Checking food ads is a good way to learn about food bargains. But the ads can't tell the whole story. Usually, they include only a small percentage of the items on your shopping list. Because savings made on "specials" can easily be wiped out unless your other purchases are made at the right prices, it's important to check all prices. You'll find all prices low at Safeway. We've listed in this ad as many of our low prices as space will permit. Hundreds more, you'll find on the shelves at Safeway. Check them....see how prices are right—right down the line.

Coffee that's quick delicious economical

NESCAFÉ is quick—quick as you can add a cup of boiling water to a teaspoonful of Nescafé.

Nescafé is delicious. Brewed from finest South American coffees, it's alive with flavour.

Yes, and Nescafé is economical. While other coffees are away higher than pre-war levels, Nescafé prices are down. So cup for cup, Nescafé costs less than ordinary coffees in can or jar.

Make one cup or many—in cup or coffee server. Nescafé is always the same, always delicious in flavour. It comes in powdered form, in air-tight glass jars. Two sizes—4 oz. and the 12 oz. economy size. Try Nescafé today.

More people drink NESCAFÉ than any other instant coffee!

"Nescafé (pronounced NESS-CAFAY) is the exclusive registered Trade Mark of Nestlé's Milk Products (Canada) Limited to designate its Soluble Coffee Product. It is composed of extract parts of pure soluble coffee and added carbohydrates (dextrins, maltose and dextrose) added solely to protect the flavour."

Picture in Colonist Leads to Delayed Family Reunion

—Colonist Photo.

Picture published in Colonist, September 14 last year, led to reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Michael Ainscough, Rock Spring, Wyoming, shown above, with adopted son Gerald, 2115 Fernwood Road, in Victoria this week. Local man had not seen his foster parents for 36 years when they left for West from Nova Scotia, left him in care of relative who took him to New York. Picture that led to reunion showed Mr. Ainscough senior, who is first miner to benefit under United Mine Workers' retirement plan, receiving cheque from union leader John L. Lewis.

Arena Chairman Requests Date For Commission to Take Over

A tentative completion date for Memorial Arena was requested of the city yesterday by F. N. Cabledu, chairman of the arena commission.

"In an endeavor to ensure the success of the civic enterprise entrusted to our care and in view of the fact that the arena was set to open May 15 we have made important bookings," explained Mr. Cabeldu in a letter received at City Hall.

He said the bookings included the Victoria Theatre Foundation, whose preliminary expenditures will amount to $5,000 for dates in July. He advised dates had also been arranged for box lacrosse and negotiations are now under way for professional hockey.

REPORTS WORRYING

"We view with great concern the repeated reports appearing in the local press, which would indicate to us the completion date much later than anticipated when the contract was entered into," declared Mr. Cabledu. "We would appreciate you advising us whether we have been premature in our arrangements and if so, when we may expect a definite assurance that the building will be turned over to us for operation. A tentative date would be appreciated."

A similar letter from H. A. Wallace, head of the Victoria Theatre Foundation, was referred Tuesday by City Council to its arena committee for consideration.

Ladysmith P.-T.A. To Supply Milk At School Recess

LADYSMITH—Members of the senior drama club of Ladysmith High School presented "Pearls," a comedy, before members of the Ladysmith P.-T.A. recently, with Miss B. Tranfield directing.

Mrs. E. Dick was appointed convener of a committee to arrange for the distribution of milk to elementary grade pupils at morning recess.

Parent-attendance prizes were won by Mrs. E. Dick's class for elementary grades and by Mr. G. G. Brown's class for Junior-Senior High.

LACHINE, Que. (CP).—Canal officials opened the canal to traffic recently, but it stayed open only long enough to let two freighters through. An obstruction closed the gate at the west end. A diver found the trouble after two hours.

Milk Substitute Appears Promising

LONDON, April 27 (CP).—Medical research experts have developed a substitute for dried milk which looks promising, Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, told the House of Commons.

Asked about experiments designed to produce milk from wheat, Morrison said no such schemes are in progress.

But he said research teams from the Medical Research Council, working in Germany, have produced a mixture including soya flour, wheat, other cereals and a small proportion of dried milk.

This promises to be a useful substitute for dried milk, especially for children, Morrison said.

Speaks on Costs

D. R. HARRISON

President of Canadian Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants in Canada, who will address open meeting of businessmen and accountants at Windermere Hotel, Monday, at 8 p.m. Mr. Harrison is secretary-treasurer and business manager of News Chronicle Publishing Company, Limited, of Port Arthur, Ontario. He is charter member and one of the organizers of local chapter of Cost Accountants.

Song Writer Peddles "Hit" On Skid Row

TAMPA, Fla., April 27 (U.P.)—The song salesman of Skid Row, Robert Stuart Bowen, is shuffling on again toward that million dollars he intends to make one day.

Tired of "tin ear" music publishers who turn down his songs as fast as he writes them, Bowen became his own publisher. A friendly printer struck off 500 copies of his latest "hit," a tune called "When It's Dogwood Blossom Time in Dixie," for $12.50.

Bowen peddles the sheet music along Franklin Street here; 25 cents if you look good for it, maybe a penny if you're broke and really like the tune. Business is pretty good, Bowen says. He nets up to $4 a day, which is better than he used to do peddling papers.

On his Great War pension of $102 a month, Bown has tampered about most of the country since that war, spending most of his time in Florida. He tried New York last Autumn, but a Bowery binge landed him in Bellevue Hospital.

The income also pays desk space for the self-proclaimed "greatest song writer in Florida."

He told a nurse he was a song-writer, Bowen said, and she told him "fine, we'll put you in the room where Stephen Foster died."

Bowen had just one complaint: "Stephen Foster died with 35 cents in his pocket, and I'm stone broke."

The nurse lent him 35 cents.

Jack Maltman B.C. Liberals' New Organizer

Jack Maltman, Victoria, will be chief organizer in British Columbia for the Liberal Association, it was announced by Harry Perry, president, yesterday.

Mr. Maltman, formerly Liberal organizer for Vancouver Island, will set up headquarters in Victoria.

W. J. Asselstine, Vancouver, former minister of mines, has been chosen Liberal organizer for Vancouver and the Lower Mainland and two regional organization divisions are to be formed.

Frank Clark of Prince George, has been appointed organizer for the northern interior with central offices at Prince George, and will be under the direction of John McRae of Prince Rupert.

The naming of an organizer and location of office for the southern interior is in the hands of Donald McDonald of Trail, and Sidney Smith of Kamloops.

Christopher Brown, vice-president of the B.C. Liberal Association, New Westminster, has accepted the appointment of acting secretary for the campaigns.

Meanwhile plans are proceeding for the holding of nomination conventions.

The Victoria meeting will be held in the Liberal Headquarters Hall on May 17.

EASTBOURNE, England (CP).—Passers-by stopped and stared. Close to the white footprints painted on the pavement near a pedestrian crossing a practical joker, working overnight, had painted large yellow handprints.

Eden Praises Unity and Confidence He Noticed While Touring Australia

Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, brilliant member of Churchill's war cabinet, heir-apparent to the leadership of the Conservative Party and a possible British Prime Minister, has agreed to write five articles during the current year for the North American Newspaper Alliance and The Daily Colonist. He will choose his subjects as they occur from time to time.

In the first of the series of articles Mr. Eden focuses his attention on Australia, a land he visited recently.

By the Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden

LONDON, April 27 (NANA).—I returned last month from a visit of some weeks to Australia. It is a land of opportunity. It is a land of giant distances which embrace every variety of climate and opportunity. The last 25 years have not witnessed any startling growth in population or development, but have been years of consolidation. Australia has built herself into a nation.

There is there today a sense of unity and confidence and national solidity which certainly did not exist a generation ago. Only the advent of the airplane made it possible to grasp an impression of the size and scope of this country in less than a year's travel.

And the mere question of size creates a multitude of problems for Australia. As I reflect upon them, my strongest sentiment is one of awe at the courage and determination of the early pioneers. What is astonishing is not what remains to be done, but what has been accomplished in so short a span as 160 years.

POPULATION NEEDED

Today Australia's first need is for population. This is fortunately not an issue of political controversy, but is now universally understood and accepted. The present immigration system is based on nomination and achieves a purpose which I advocated over 30 years ago—that every immigrant should have a "private citizen to whom to turn in time of difficulty or need."

An Australian nominates and undertakes to care for an intending migrant, who is given assisted passage. The nominator is expected to provide accommodation until the migrant can establish himself—and, owing to the housing shortage, this may take some time.

There is much to be said for this system. It results in a new arrival being able to rely as it were upon a godparent who accepts a certain responsibility for him in his early days of settlement. While in Australia, I received many letters from recent arrivals who, having found for themselves that work they wanted, are making arrangements to nominate in their turn some of their relatives or friends at home.

HOUSING PROBLEM

Most stubborn obstacle to acceptance here of a larger number of migrants is Australia's housing problem. In every state vigorous efforts are being made by a wide variety of methods to combat this shortage.

I found that a "white Australia" policy is fundamental faith for almost every Australian. By their action in accepting newcomers from Europe and by their plans for agricultural development and industrial enterprise, Australians are doing much to justify their policy before the world. They are acutely conscious of racial problems which confront countries like South Africa, and recent outbreaks in the Union have strengthened the Commonwealth's determination to preserve a white Australia.

Openings in this new land are many and varied. They range from clerical work in city banks and offices to primary opportunities on the land itself.

Australians have made great strides forward on their own account, even though there is a shortage of manpower everywhere on the sub-continent. Queensland, for instance, despite its subtropical character, has a little over one-tenth of its land unoccupied. This is a tribute of the energy and determination of a remarkable people.

NORTH FORMIDABLE

I thought that the northern territory presents the most formidable problems and perhaps the richest opportunities. Here are some of the far-flung cattle stations which look so vast to European eyes. I motored all morning over one that was 1,300 square miles in extent. We failed to find the owner and he failed to find us.

Yet by no means all this territory is desolate. We were fortunate enough to see the area around Alice Springs soon after a rain. The rolling country, trees and shrubs and flights of parrots were beautiful to look upon and the transient green freshness of the pasture bore no resemblance to the popular conception of the dead heart of Australia.

Some attractive inducements have wisely been put before the Australian who may be tempted to try his chance in the northern territory. Here a primary producer pays no income tax, and, with luck, he can make quite a fortune for himself. But he deserves it.

I have come across men who know the northern territory and who are convinced of the substantial contribution it can one day make to the world's supply of meat—and of the decisive part that it can play in Australia's future.

I share their views. But all this is long-term stuff. Some of this territory cannot today carry more than five cattle to the square mile. It must be developed.

It is invidious for a visitor to attempt comparisons between states, nor in a single article can one give any account of them. Each has its special features and specific appeal. Victoria has its sense of stability, its charm and progress. New South Wales is a miniature of all Australia with its vigorous life expressed in every branch farming and industry. Southern Australia has its graceful, friendly capital and smiling countryside, and Tasmania its balanced agriculture as reminiscent of Normandy.

One of the most attractive is certainly Western Australia, and I think that of all the states Queensland and Western Australia provide the widest scope for increase of population in the next 25 years.

The leitmotiv dominating the concert of Australian effort is the opening up of their country through agriculture, though projects to combat the ravages of drought and flood and by some measure of industrialization. The driving force behind much of this endeavor stems from Australia's sense of unity with devotion to the British Commonwealth. I felt this good will toward Britain was probably greater today than it has ever been. It is seen, for example, in Australian attempts to increase food production. Some of her schemes may not come to complete fruition for a decade, but Australia's inalienable kinship with the Mother Country is symbolized now by the gifts of food and the parcels that her people generously send to that land of Britain which so many of them still call home. The Government and institutions of Australia are British in origin. They preserve and enhance what are perhaps the leading British political virtues. They are flexible and adaptable. They can challenge new conditions and absorb them and yet still retain the original thought and tradition from which they stem. Australians are proud of their British heritage and we in Britain are honored in our Australian family.

Witter Gives Selling Points

Using pamphlets to illustrate his address, H. B. Witter, Victoria insurance salesman, Tuesday pointed out to a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Electric Club some of the latest wrinkles in the art of selling insurance.

He stated salesmen were encouraged to make use of the "approach" they like best. "Methods used in one locality might not work in another," he advised.

Most salesmen now made two visits to prospective clients, the first to collect pertinent facts and the second to present a brief outline of particulars peculiar to the client's case.

Mr. Witter declared life insurance had encouraged and instructed people in the art of saving.

"Any young man can put himself on easy street no matter what he earns if he saves 10 per cent of what he earns," he stated.

Giving Medal To B.C. Sailor

LONDON, April 27 (CP).—A British Humane Society announced today it is giving its highest award—the White Cross of St. Giles—to a Vancouver sailor for heroism in the rescue of a dog at Hull, England.

The People's Dispensary for Sick Animals of the Poor said it is citing Stuart Curran, now a crew member of the freighter Seaboard Trader, for risking his life to bring a dog to safety last January from where it was trapped between a dock and the ship's side. The Seaboard Trader is due at Southampton Friday.

Curran, then aboard the Harman Westminster, was lowered by rope between the ship and the dock. During the rescue operation he fell into the water himself and had to be pulled out by Police Constable Walter Hartley, who already had been given the same award by the society.

NEW! BRAN MUFFINS WITH TANGY PINEAPPLE

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, April 28th—Did you know that OXO can add zest and flavour and delicious "meatiness" to almost any one of your favourite dishes? You see, Oxo has the good flavour of prime, lean beef. So when you want extra meaty flavour in soups, stews or sauces—add Oxo—cubes or fluid. Or—when you want new, appetizing flavour for your salads—add a teaspoon of fluid Oxo to each 2 tablespoons of salad dressing! This with chopped greens, is delicious! Your family will love your Oxo-flavoured dishes. And as a Spring "pick-up", a hot Oxo will do the trick. You'll like the Oxo prices! Oxo gives you so much for so little cost!

Time For Play in Spring's fresh air is every youngster's delight. And they use up a lot of energy playing from school-time 'til dinner, when they come home hungry as bears. So cater to their young appetites and give them "quick food energy" with yummy CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP like this:

APPLE CRISP

Temp.: 375 deg.—350 deg. F. Time: 50 to 60 minutes.

6 to 8 medium apples (tart)
1/3 cup hot water
¼ cup Crown Brand Corn Syrup
1/16 tsp. salt
½ tsp. ground cinnamon
⅔ cup white or brown sugar
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/3 cup butter

Pare, core and slice apples. Place in a 1½-quart greased casserole. Combine hot water, Crown Brand Syrup, salt and cinnamon; pour over apples. Blend sugar and flour; rub in butter until mixture is crumbly in consistency. Pat this mixture on top of apples and bake uncovered in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 50 minutes; reduce heat to 350 deg. F. and bake until apples are tender (length of time will depend upon variety of apples used). Serve warm or chilled, with or without cream. Serves 6.

Yours For The Asking is this amazing booklet telling you how you can make your baby's hair adorably curly . . . no matter how straight it is! It's about that wonderful new discovery — NESTLE BABY HAIR TREATMENT. It will tell you just how to give your tiny tot curls this almost "magical" way . . . so very easy and so wonderfully rewarding! Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Something new . . . something different . . . but something definitely delicious! This Chocolate Orange Frosting is full of the luscious real chocolate flavor . . . the flavor of BAKER'S UNSWEETENED CHOCOLATE.

CHOCOLATE ORANGE FROSTING

3 tsps. grated orange rind
2 tbsps. butter
2 cups sifted icing sugar
1½ squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons orange juice (about)

Combine orange rind and butter; cream well. Add part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add chocolate and salt and mix well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with orange juice, until of right consistency to spread. Beat thoroughly after each addition. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of about 3 dozen cup cakes, tops of two 8-inch layers, or top and sides of 8 x 8 x 2-inch cake.

Here's A Spring Housecleaning Tip from a reader that I think you'll want to try! Arranging Decorated Tables Display on May 4

—Colonist Photo

The Decorated Tables Display, under the auspices of the Junior Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, will be held in the Empress Hotel Ballroom on May 4 from 2 to 9:30 p.m. Among the classes will be national—tables set in style of any nationality—formal dinner, informal luncheon, buffet or breakfast table, large floral display, tea tables, etc. Members of the committee in charge are pictured above and, from left to right, are Mrs. John Hedley, Mrs. G. Terry, Mrs. Mathew Hedley (convener), Mrs. W. R. Parker and Miss Marianne Fraser.

New Members Initiated Into Beta Sigma Phi

Nine rushees were initiated into Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, at the 18th Founders' Day banquet held in the grill room, Empress Hotel, last evening at which Miss Vera Waller, council president, presided.

Miss Margaret Walker, president of Omicron Chapter, introduced the rushees including Hilda Bates, Sylvia Morrow, Betty Peatt, Goldie Gagnon, June Dickinson, Clarice Caucutt, Barbara Kitto, Joyce McCooke, Gwen Petrie who has been accepted as a member of the sorority, was absent from the banquet.

Ritual of Jewels, conducted by Miss Waller, were presented to Jeanne Randall, Joyce Richardson, Olive Kirchin, Waveney Massie, Lorraine Mitchell, Grace Thomas, Mickie Mickleburgh, Drois Collins, Cathern Graham, Mildred Hick, Shirley Wallace, Pat Meagher and Joyce Currie, members of Xi Chapter; Madeline Sluggett, Peggy Dykes, Peggy MacLean, Isabel Helander and Ruth Nicholson, Zeta Chapter, and Thelma Burnett and Betty Laurie of Omicron Chapter.

HEAD TABLE

Seated at the head table were Mme. Renee Archibald, who was guest speaker, Mrs. T. H. Johnson, social sponsor, Mrs. Maude Hammond, director of Zeta, Miss Waller, Mrs. Mary Cochrane, president of Eta Chapter, Nanaimo, Miss Nell Edwards, director of Xi Chapter, Miss Margaret Walker, president of Omicron, Mrs. Grace Waters, president of Zeta Chapter, Miss Kitty Cameron, president of Xi Beta Chapter, and Miss Peggy Joyce, president of Xi Chapter. Miss Esther Speller of Nanaimo was also a special guest.

CENTRE OF ART

Mme. Archibald, who was introduced by Miss Waller, told her audience that after the frightful years of war, France is emerging as an intellectual centre for art, music, once again, and is once again the leader in the world of fashion.

She pointed out the enormous increase in the cost of living in France today and said that small salaried people have to spend everything on food, with a result that few obtain a "spot in the country" which is every Frenchman's dream.

"Although women have had the vote for such a short time, they have always led France," Mme. Archibald asserted, citing many of the famous French women throughout history.

STRONG BOND

Mme. Archibald declared that there has always been a strong bond between France and Canada and that any Canadian going to France would receive a special welcome.

Miss Grace Kerkham extended a vote of thanks to the guest speaker, following which Catherine Dash, accompanied at the piano by Barbara Brown, sang "The Friendly Road," prize-winning song, written and composed by a member of Beta Sigma Phi, and "Spring Is a Lovely Lady."

HANDICRAFT EXHIBIT

Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute held a successful handicraft and hobby show in Sooke Community Hall recently.

Opened by the president, Mrs. W. Conder, the exhibit included displays of needlework, leatherwork, woodwork, electrical material and photographs and was convened by Mrs. C. B. Screiber.

Whist was played at the evening session when prizes were won by Mrs. F. G. Gray, Miss Margaret Bowles, Mr. Joe Collins and Mr. Fred Lajeunesse. Mrs. Conder convened the tea and Mrs. J. G. Soutar was in charge of door receipts.

Convening Tea on Friday

MRS. HECTOR CAMPBELL

The young people of the Progressive Conservative Association will hold a Spring tea in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company, on Friday from 3 to 4 p.m., to which the public is invited. Mrs. Hector Campbell, above, is general convener of the tea, and Mrs. Gordon Cameron has been asked to preside at the head table. A musical program has been arranged.

Student Sponsoring Aim Of Musical Art Society

Chamber music, the sponsoring of senior students who are ready for public professional appearances on a small scale and lecture recitals were among the suggestions offered for consideration of the Victoria Musical Art Society at their annual meeting held at Newcombe Hall last evening.

It has been felt for some time that the group has been eminently successful in one of their major aims, that of encouraging musical talent among the young people of the community. However, the bringing to Victoria of out-of-town artists was perhaps better left in other hands. The students have the opportunity of hearing the concerts of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, and of attending the concerts presented by professionals during the season, and the views expressed by Dr. Roger Manning, on behalf of the committee who were appointed to study the question, were heartily approved by the meeting.

By encouraging young instrumentalists to work together in small groups, it is hoped to broaden their musical horizons, give them an incentive toward further study, and when they are ready for it, give them opportunity for public performances.

Present plans which will be further considered for next season include the usual student recital, and the presentation of the type of lecture-recital which has been so successful in other centres.

Following the excellent reports, particularly those of the intermediate and junior groups sponsored by the parent association, an interesting musical program was given.

From the intermediate group Madeline Coltis, pianist, Donna McCabe, vocalist, and a two-piano team, Marilyn and Janice Bacon, delighted the audience. Juniors heard were John Sawyer, violinist, accompanied by Jacqueline Sawyer; Margaret McGill, cellist, accompanied by Janice Bacon; Frances Appleton, pianist, and Barbara Donaldson, vocal solo, accompanied by Florence Gunn.

Dr. Roger Manning was elected president for the coming year; Mrs. F. Wills, first vice-president; Mrs. A. H. Adams, second vice-president; Mrs. J. Ingham Smith, secretary; F. Stevenson, treasurer. The program committee will include Dr. Manning, Mrs. Reginald Hammond, Mrs. George Phillips and Mrs. R. B. McCaw, and the membership committee will be Mrs. A. H. Adams, Mrs. P. E. Corby, Mrs. J. McKibben. The press representative will be Mrs. Story Waller. Mrs. Ingham Smith and Mrs. R. D. McCaw will be the representatives of the senior group for the intermediates and Mrs. R. E. Coltis and Mrs. C. H. Bacon for the juniors. Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Reginald Hammond, Mrs. George Phillips and W. H. Wilson. Mrs. J. O. Cameron is honorary president and Mrs. P. E. Corby, retiring president, is the honorary vice-president.

Couple to Live At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI.—At a pretty wedding solemnized on April 16 at First United Church, with Rev. E. F. Church officiating, Hazel Annabelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boe of Port Alberni, became the bride of Charles Randall, of Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Randall, Duncan.

The bride was gowned in white satin cut on Empire lines with portrait neckline. Her finger tip veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried red rosebuds, white carnations and stocks. She was given away by her father.

Attendants were Mrs. H. Swanson as matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Boe, bride's matron, Miss [illegible] Heskin, bridesmaid, and Yvonne and Sharon Swanson as flower girls. Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Boe wore identical gowns of delphinium blue taffeta with floral wreaths in their hair, while Miss Heskin wore rose pink taffeta. The flower girls wore ... and buttercup yellow respectively and wore matching ribbons in their hair. They carried primroses.

Mr. Ben Hill of Victoria attended the groom, while Mr. Leonard Randall, Mr. Ernie Wallace and Mr. Robert Boe ushered.

For a wedding trip to Seattle the bride donned a tailored suit of cloud grey with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds, white stock and gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Randall will reside at Port Alberni.

Lake Hill W.I. Holds Work Party

Lake Hill Community Centre, recently brought under the management of Lake Hill Women's Institute, underwent the first process in face lifting Thursday afternoon when a corps of volunteers cleaned up the grounds in preparation for planting of shrubs and flowers. Assisting Miss Dorothy Cox, convener, were Mr. A. Maskal, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Donville and Mr. D. Jackson.

Ladies of the institute held a work party in the institute rooms, beginning a quilt which is to be shown in competition at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver next August. Mrs. W. McGregor and the president, Mrs. A. S. Moffatt, were conveners.

The institute is entering a display in the Horticultural Society's Spring show at the Crystal Garden May 12. Mrs. F. Sims and Mrs. Carpenter were named conveners. Next work-party will begin 1 p.m. April 29 at institute hall.

Musical Program At Linen Shower

An interesting musical program has been arranged for the linen shower of the British Columbia Protestant Orphanage, to be held at the home on May 5 from 2 to 5 p.m.

Vocal solos will be presented by Mr. Olav Wormald, Miss Hazel Ray, Miss Janet Cooke and Mr. [illegible], and piano solos by Miss Kathleen Fowler. The children of the orphanage will render choruses led by Mrs. O. M. Brown.

SURPRISE PARTY

COBBLE HILL, April 27.—A surprise party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sibbald, to welcome them to the district, and as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. George Taggart, who now reside in Victoria. Gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Taggart, also to Mr. and Mrs. Sibbald.

Old-time dancing and community singing were enjoyed, Mrs. R. Y. Calderwood, Mr. Paul Michelin and Mr. T. P. Barry supplying the music.

Thousands follow that wonderful new MELTOWAY DIETARY REDUCING PLAN, without having an excessive hunger at any time. Get the MELTOWAY DIETARY REDUCING PLAN : : : discover for yourself : : : a week's trial will convince you!

START LOSING FAT FIRST DAY...YET FEEL REFRESHED AND HAVE MORE PEP

- ★ NO MASSAGE
- ★ NO LAXATIVES
- ★ NO DRUGS
- ★ NO EXERCISE
- ★ NO STARVATION DIET

MELTOWAY REDUCING PLAN LTD

MALTON, ONT.

To the Public:

THE TRUTH ABOUT REDUCING

This reducing business, it's no joke! We all know that. No magic formula or words . . . in fact nothing on this earth will remove those excess pounds without your help. It takes plenty of effort. It takes plenty of will-power to resist those tempting but fattening foods you crave.

Most of us need a little extra help with this reducing business, to keep from eating too much. The Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan keeps you well-fed and feeling full of energy and pep.

No, it's not easy to lose weight BUT, with the Meltoway Reducing Plan it CAN BE DONE. If I did not have the utmost confidence in it I would not recommend it to my friends. Give it a try NOW, then let me know if I'm not right.

Sincerely yours

PRESIDENT

YOU MUST LOSE UP TO 7 POUNDS IN 7 DAYS OR YOUR MONEY BACK

DOCTORS SAY:

EXCESS FAT A THREAT TO HEALTH

Doctors everywhere agree that overweight may be a serious threat to health. Overweight makes strenuous demands on the heart, lungs, muscles and other organs.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

QUESTION: How can I have a more attractive figure?

ANSWER: By following the safe, easy, scientific, Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan which has been proven so successful by thousands of men and women throughout the United States and Canada.

QUESTION: Will my doctor approve of this plan?

ANSWER: Show the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan to your doctor today. Meltoway Tablets are not a reducing drug.

QUESTION: Can men benefit by the Meltoway Reducing Plan?

ANSWER: They can, and many men already have. Excess fat is as ugly, and as dangerous to health, for men as for women.

QUESTION: Must I starve myself?

ANSWER: No . . . the Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan will point the way to a diet that is pleasant, satisfying and nourishing. Meltoway Tablets are a dietary supplement to give you the necessary energy and pep while reducing, if you feel you require them.

QUESTION: Is reducing healthy?

ANSWER: It is a well-known medical fact that excess weight is harmful . . . slows you down. You'll look better, feel better, as you start losing ugly, unwanted fat. Start that Meltoway Reducing Plan today.

QUESTION: Is reducing expensive?

ANSWER: The complete Meltoway Reducing Plan is only $2.95. After 7 days you will see definite results or your money back. Judge for yourself.

LOVELORN EDITORS SAY:

Romance comes to the girl with an alluring figure! Men want wives who keep their youth and loveliness. The Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan should be your permanent happiness plan. Don't let your graceful, enticing figure get away from you and he'll never let you get away from him!

UNCONDITIONAL MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

You must lose up to 7 pounds in 7 days or money refunded.

Buy Meltoway's complete plan for $2.95 and follow directions in the Meltoway Plan booklet. Check your weight before and while following the Meltoway Reducing Plan. If not satisfied with the results return empty bottle and your money will be refunded. Start this test today. Ask for the original Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan—Accept no substitutes.

Meltoway REDUCING PLAN

PROVEN EASY WAY TAKES OFF UGLY FAT

MELTOWAY'S Dietary Reducing plan is absolutely harmless and contains no drugs or laxatives. A complete instruction book goes with each bottle of Meltoway tablets.

MELTOWAY'S Dietary Reducing plan is the most effective way of losing weight easily and quickly. Its amazing results have been proven by thousands of men and women throughout the country.

MELTOWAY helps you to take off ugly fat without drugs, no laxatives, no exercise, no starvation diet. Absolutely harmless and an aid to good health.

MELTOWAY is an easy to follow plan to take off 10-20-30 pounds in a relatively short time. The Meltoway Dietary Reducing Plan booklet gives simple instructions how to capture the slender figure you crave.

MELTOWAY'S Plan helps you to control that appetite . . . to resist fattening foods, eating between meals. Of course if your overweight is due to a glandular obesity condition, not overeating, see your family physician.

Compromise Ends Soccer Stalemate

BUENOS AIRES, April 27 (AP)—Argentina's ten-month-long soccer players' strike ended suddenly today in a compromise.

The players, who opposed a contract which contained a clause similar to the reserve clause in the United States baseball contract, now may sign with any club they desire after playing with their original team for two years.

The athletes, however, lost ... aries. They agreed to maximum salaries of $300 a month and $30 for each point scored by the team.

The Victoria Y.M.C.A. track and field team will hold its first outdoor workout of the season tonight at the Victoria High School grounds at 6.30 p.m. in preparation for a heavy schedule of Spring and Summer meets which will lead to the British Empire Games trials.

The team has worked out faithfully indoors all Winter and is in excellent condition for the first meet of the season, the Vancouver City Championships ...

STRONG IN SPRINTERS

The men's team is particularly strong in sprinters this year with several outstanding juniors backing up last season's stars. Rafael Dike will be back from St. Mary's College at the end of May ... President Harry M... Bob Hutchison and Gordy Pynn on the 440-yard relay squad which has been ... Nick ... and ... Newton are two ... of promise. ... is expected to fill a team ... at the 440-yard distance.

... Don Gill showing up well.

DAWN JOSEPHS BACK

The women's team is headed by Sprinters Adrienne Taylor, Lynn Newton, Evelyn Slater and Pat Fleming and Jumper Dawn Josephs. Miss Josephs has recovered from a hospital stint and will be ready for another record-breaking year at the pits. Last year she broke the Dominion and Provincial marks for the junior girls' broad jump with a leap of 16 feet 1¾ inches.

Workouts will be held at the Victoria High School grounds every Tuesday and Thursday and anyone interested in turning out, whether members of the Y.M.C.A. or not, will be welcomed.

SURE AS TAXES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Federal tenders finally caught up with Vancouver Parks Board. A bill for 20 years back rent on Grandview Park here has been received and paid. The bill has been lost in Ottawa files since 1929. Parks Board Commissioner George Thompson remarked: "And all the time we thought we were getting away with something."

Newhouser, Raschi Exceptions As Pitching Aces Start Slowly

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—The big league pitching aces are having quite a time getting started this season.

With the exception of Detroit's Hal Newhouser and New York Yankees' Vic Raschi, every one of them has received rough treatment.

The biggest disappointments thus far have been Boston Braves' Johnny Sain and New York Giants' Larry Jansen. Counted on to carry the load for their respective teams, the two righthanders have yet to win although each has been to the hill three times.

SAIN HIT HARD

Sain was knocked out by the Giants and beaten by Philadelphia and Brooklyn. Jansen has yet to pitch a complete game. He lasted only five innings against the Dodgers, one against the Braves and six against the Phils.

Last year Sain won 24 games and helped bring the first National League pennant to Boston in 34 years. Jansen followed up a 21-game 1947 season with 18 triumphs last year and was counted upon to win 20 again this year.

Johnny Schmitz, ace of Chicago Cubs' pitching staff, has made one start this year and failed to get past the fifth inning as he bowed to St. Louis Cardinals 9-2. The lean lefthander won 18 games last season.

BARNEY, CHESNES TOO

Rex Barney, Brooklyn's biggest winner last year, was handed a three-round kayo by the Phus in his only start. Bob Chesnes, Pittsburgh's 14-game winner of 1948, was tapped for four runs in his one inning of pitching against Cincinnati Reds last week.

The Reds' ace, Ewell Blackwell, still hasn't rounded into pitching shape following a Winter kidney operation. Robin Roberts, rated No. 1 pitcher on the Philly staff following his impressive work last year and his fine showing in Spring training, was banged out in the fourth inning by the Dodgers in his only start. Harry Brecheen, the Cards' top flinger, dropped his first start of the season, but came back to whip the Reds 9-2 the other night.

FELLER QUESTION MARK

The American League pitching aces have not fared much better. Joe Dobson, biggest winner of Boston Red Sox last year, has made two starts and was beaten each time. Bob Feller, still generally recognized as the best of the present-day pitchers, was forced to beg out in the second inning of his only start this season because of wildness and an ailing shoulder.

In the meantime, Newhouser and Raschi keep rolling along, giving promise of outstanding seasons. Each has won twice, though the Detroiter lost a close one today. Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden, 20-game winners of the Indians, also have looked good. Lemon owns two victories, one of them a six-hit shutout. Bearden won his only start but had to battle through 10 innings for it.

ANIMAL MIGRATION

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—Does and fawns of caribou herds are moving northward into the Northwest Territories weeks earlier than usual this year. Gradual onset of Spring has resulted in earlier trekking north ahead of melting snows.

FOOTRULE ON SALMON

When the salmon are running outside his home at Albert Head, Mr. M. K. Macmillan finds it just a little hard to drive to Victoria each morning. The result is when you visit him at W. & J. Wilson's at 1221 Government Street it is easy to get him to talk about matters piscatorial.

There, as manager of the Dack's Shoe Dept. in the Wilson store, Mr. Macmillan will say that feet, like salmon, are rarely alike.

Customers have their own ideas, he says, but I make it a rule ... I can give a perfect fit. A lot of them want a size that is too small for them.

"It is a bit like throwing back a ... fish ... the catch."

The results of Mr. Macmillan's ... during the years he has been with W. & J. Wilson ... the pair of shoes has been returned as a misfit.

Franco Denies Spanish Dictatorship; Suggests Alliance in Mediterranean

H. V. Kaltenborn, dean of news commentators, [illegible] after an exclusive interview with General Franco [illegible]

GENERAL FRANCO

By HANS V. KALTENBORN

NEW YORK, April 27.—Gen. Francisco Franco [illegible] fight against communism [illegible] that he [illegible] more than any other [illegible] again [illegible] always [illegible] of Spain [illegible] in America.

RULE CONFIRMED

"My Government [illegible] carried [illegible] our [illegible]

[illegible]

The question of [illegible] with Spain is [illegible] United Nations Assembly [illegible] just opened here. A motion to return [illegible] that [illegible] Nations [illegible] were [illegible] represented a threat to the peace. [illegible] generally recognized that the Soviet Union and not Spain is the real threat to peace.

KEY TO DEFENCE

And today [illegible] that if only by the strict terms of military necessity Spain is one of the keys to defence against Red attack. The legality of Franco's rule and the extent of his popular support is therefore crucial. But if he should die?

"If the head of the state [illegible] unable to serve for any reason," Franco told me, "the Council of State selects a king or a regent. We can have either or we can have both. It is a simple constitutional procedure. If it becomes apparent that the hereditary monarch will not make an efficient ruler, as has been true several times in Spain's [illegible] a regent can be selected [illegible] the Cortes. The Government of [illegible] a government of law."

[illegible]

IMPORTANT FRONTIER

[illegible] Spain holds both sides of [illegible] with the Mediterranean. Spain has [illegible] frontier guarded by the most formidable mountain chain in Europe.

"Our soldiers have a reputation as fighters to the bitter end and our available military manpower totals nearly 3,000,000 with three out of every four of them fighting men.

"Nor need there be fear of Communist sabotage in Spain. There is [illegible] an entry into Spain it would fail.

As a matter of fact," Generalissimo Franco went on, "I do not believe the Soviet Union will engage in aggressive military operations. The men in the Kremlin feel that they can best accomplish their purpose by infiltration and sabotage [illegible] in present day Spain the [illegible] element is under effective control."

NO UNITED STATES LOAN

[illegible] United States [illegible] what I cannot understand," Franco said, "is why the United States has so much confidence in France and Britain and [illegible] confidence in Spain. It is only three years ago that France and Britain signed pacts with Russia. [illegible] they are signing a pact with the United States against Russia. What kind of pact will they be [illegible] three years from now?"

One sort of pact that interested Franco was developed. Among the Western powers [illegible] an agreement under which each would utilize one [illegible] part of each day for broadcasts into Russia. I explained that the Voice of America was already doing something along this line.

Franco also had definite ideas about freedom of the press. [illegible] There is no serious restriction on press freedom in Spain. We tolerate criticism and only ask that it be constructive."

In the palace guarded by Moors [illegible] we discussed also Spain's economic situation. For lack of [illegible] assistance Franco admitted Spain's already low standard of living may have to be lowered still more. Argentina granted Spain wheat credits but charged excessively for the grain. An American bank [illegible] a small loan only against the [illegible]

CLOSE BALANCE

However the nation [illegible] a close balance between exports and imports.

There were three things Spain needed badly: electric power, fertilizer and agricultural machinery. In that order. Spain has managed to buy some generators and hopes to double her power output within the next two years. Because of a drought this year and consequent lack of hydro-electric power many Spanish industrial plants have had to be shut down.

Spain is producing some minerals and could almost double this production if the right kind of mining machinery were available. When I suggested a private United States bank loan for this purpose, Franco replied: "The United States Government would probably prohibit any American bank loan to Spain for this purpose."

Little-Known Man Seen Choice If Mao, Chinese Red Chief, Dies

TEHRAN, April 27 (CP). A well-known [illegible] and a little known fourth man are the real rulers of Communist China.

The first three are party chairman Mao Tze-Tung, his foreign affairs chief Chou En-lai and Commander-in-Chief Chu Teh.

The fourth about whom little has been written but whose importance equals if not exceeds that of Chou and Chu, is Vice-Chairman Liu Hsiao-Chi.

Nearly everyone inside and out of the party agrees that if anything should happen to Mao quiet-mannered Liu Hsiao-Chi and not the brilliant Chou or the military leader Chu Teh, would be his successor.

BESIDE LENIN

The careers of Mao, Chou and Chu are well known to the Chinese. In the Communist areas their pictures, six times larger than life, have hung beside those of Lenin and Stalin in many assembly halls.

That of Liu rarely appears.

Painstakingly shy, Liu keeps constantly in the background.

When Liu talks it is almost in a whisper. People say he rarely becomes angry, or if he does, he doesn't show it. Yet behind the meekness of his exterior there is a brain as cold and as clear as ice.

He is the party theoretician. His knowledge of the "party line" is definitive. He knows how Moscow thinks and how the Communist think. It is his job to make these two views coincide or if they do not, to bridge the differences.

RESISTANCE WORK

During the Japanese war Liu spent months in Japanese-held Peiping circulating inflammatory pamphlets, writing anti-Japanese articles in newspapers and organizing workers into resistance units. He never was caught but often it was close.

As vice-chairman of the important central committee and a member of the Politburo [illegible] of the party he has an important voice in the affairs of Red China. During Mao's illness in 1945-46, Liu was virtually party chairman.

His announced views are that the Chinese Communist party, though a disciple of Lenin and Stalin, must remain independent. It is possible, he says, for the Chinese to have a purely Chinese program based on the peasant rather than the proletariat and still see eye-to-eye with Russia.

In the matter of foreign policy he makes it clear that the Chinese party goes along 100 per cent with Moscow. He says the Communists need American technical assistance, but on their own terms.

Confessed Russian Spy and Tip-Off Man

A lieutenant when the picture was taken, he was later promoted to captain. In photo at right is seen Romanian-born Nick Karaban, who tipped R.C.M.P. off about fellow countryman. Karaban told police about his suspicions concerning Lesthenko, explaining his action by saying that he "liked Canada."

See Rich Area For Sharks Off Greenland

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 27 (NANA).—One of the world's richest shark fisheries has just been discovered in Arctic waters.

A region a few hundred miles in area just south of Ellesmere Land and off the northwest coast of Greenland swarms with the big Greenland shark, according to reports to the Arctic Institute of North America from Norwegian fishermen.

Find Remains Of Explorers

WASHINGTON, April 27 (NANA).—Finding of [illegible] skulls and bones of 18 members of the [illegible] Arctic expedition of Sir John Franklin, which disappeared in the far North of Canada a century ago, has just been reported to the Arctic Institute of North America.

[illegible]

The report is made by L. A. Learmonth, formerly of the Hudson's Bay Company fur trade department [illegible]

On the [illegible] Peninsula on the south of King William Island were found scattered bones of three men, a button [illegible] with the [illegible] of George IV and a [illegible] of the British [illegible]

An old Eskimo woman told Mr. Learmonth that when she was a [illegible] found by natives on a nearby island and left undisturbed. Learmonth searched all the islands in the vicinity but was unable to find any of these remains.

It is known that after the crushing of the Erebus, the men under Captain Crozier, Franklin's second in command, made their way across the west King William Island.

Whalers Prepare for Season

With whaling season of Northern British Columbia just around proverbial corner, three whalers of Western Whaling Corporation are now undergoing last-minute preparations for five-month season. Two Victorians will serve in vessel Kimsquit. Pictured above by whaler's harpoon gun are George Bickford, at right, of Conway Road in Saanich, and Harold Raybone, 1604 Pembroke Street. Mr. Raybone is veteran whaling gunner. Three whalers have been made ready for season at the Bay Street plant of Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd.

Trim Trio of Whalers Set for New Season

—Marine News—

The blood-stirring cry of "Thar she blows!" will soon be resounding across waters of northern British Columbia as Western Whaling Corporation gets its second whaling season under way.

Three vessels will hunt the mammals this year—the Kimsquit, commanded by Jack Hann, Tahsis Chief, skippered by Henry Mahle; and the Nahmint, under the command of Einer Jensen.

All three vessels have been completely refitted at the Bay Street plant of Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. The Tahsis Chief and Kimsquit are still here while the Nahmint is in Vancouver picking up additional gear and stores.

The Kimsquit is scheduled to leave this port for Vancouver on Friday or before, reports Thomas Moffett, V.M.D. works manager. The Tahsis Chief will leave shortly after. Both vessels will pick up stores at the Mainland city, then proceed directly to Northern waters. Each vessel will carry a crew of approximately nine men.

Among those serving in the Kimsquit this year will be George Bickford, Conway Road, Saanich, and Harold Raybone, 1604 Pembroke Street. Mr. Raybone, a veteran whaler of this coast, will serve as gunner.

The whaling season commences May 1, and all three vessels will be on the grounds during the first week of that month.

This year the Kimsquit is replacing the Saanich. The latter craft is headed for the scrap yard.

Western Whaling Corporation, owned by fishing interests of British Columbia, has established a fully equipped whaling station at Coal Harbor toward the north end of Vancouver Island. The location was formerly an R.C.A.F. base.

Last year the corporation's three whalers brought in a total of more than [illegible] mammals, the majority of them being of the humpback species. The Nahmint was responsible for 92 of the total.

It is expected this year's whaling venture will produce even better results and will continue until sometime in September.

be released through naval headquarters at Ottawa.

The board of inquiry will open sittings in Vancouver May 2 to investigate similar stop-work incidents on the destroyers Crescent and Athabaskan.

More than 100 personnel were involved in the three disturbances. The navy earlier said they were not of a mutinous nature and in each case the men returned to duty after their officers spoke to them.

MARCH POOR MONTH

March was a poor month for Atlantic Coast fishermen and despite an [illegible] catch on the Pacific [illegible] pounds 22 per cent below March 1948, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday from Ottawa.

A sharp falling off in landings of most kinds of fish, particularly sardine herrings, marked the East Coast fishery. On the Pacific marked increases were shown over March last year in herring, rockfishes and [illegible].

The catch on the Pacific in March totaled 6,953,000 pounds with a value of $208,000 compared with 3,31[illegible],000 pounds valued at $202,000. In the first quarter, landings amounted to 144,054,000 pounds valued at $2,188,000 compared with 161,189,000 pounds valued at $2,[illegible].

READY FOR SEASON

Despite a price deadlock, gillnetters will begin salmon fishing when the commercial season opens off Astoria, Oregon, the C.I.O. Fishermen's Union said Tuesday.

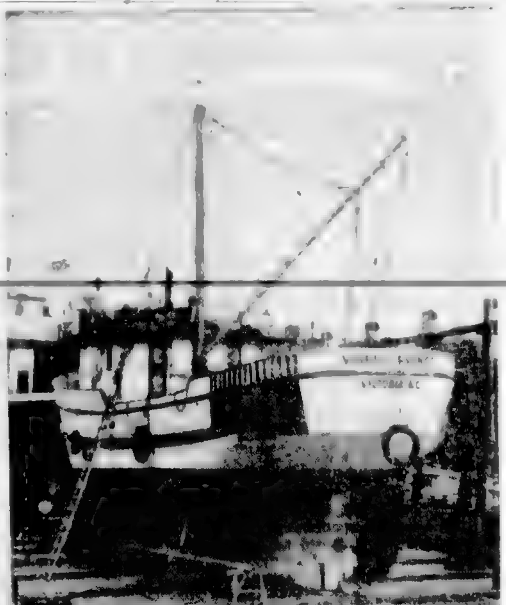

Henry Niemela, union secretary, said negotiations with the packers would continue. He said an agreement had been reached to give the fishermen the benefit of any upward revision of prices made after the season starts.

The union is asking 27 cents a pound for Chinooks and Bluebacks and [illegible] cents for Steelhead. Packers have offered 20 cents for Chinooks and Bluebacks and 14 for Steelhead.

Niemela estimated 1,000 boats would be on the river from Vancouver, Wash., to the sea when the season opens Sunday.

Truman "Especially Fit" On Entering Fifth Year

WASHINGTON, April 27.—President Truman started his fifth year in the White House this week confident that his Legislative program soon would start moving in Congress.

The Chief Executive ended his first four years as President on Tuesday, [illegible] with the ending of the first one hundred days of the Democratic 81st Congress.

When Mr. Truman took office last January after his surprising election victory the first 100 days of the Congressional Session were expected to spell out his entire "fair deal" program.

It hasn't worked out that way. But the President is neither worried nor discouraged, say his White House advisers.

The way he looks at it, according to his closest associates, it's all [illegible] what he told a White House caller recently: "I'm right, and in the end, I'll get what I recommended."

WORST NOW OVER

After a rocky start the President is confidently telling his aides that the worst is now over and most of his program should be on the books soon after Easter.

His assistants say he has cleared his desk for some hard work this month. They emphasize that he definitely has made up his mind to deal with Congress by speaking gently rather than using the big stick.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, his personal physician, says the President's physical condition is "especially good." At the beginning of his fifth year Graham would like to see "the boss" slow down a bit, but realizes it's almost impossible.

"I would prefer he didn't do so much and see so many people. His duties are unlimited, he simply burns up too much energy," points out Graham.

Graham adds, however, that he is not worried about the President's weight, although he is about four pounds over his ideal weight. He would like to keep him to a trim 170 pounds.

While Mr. Truman has nearly all his elected second term before him, he is already telling associates that he has no desire ever again to run for president.

He told a luncheon group half-seriously and half-joking the other day that the rebuilding of the White House might be about ready for some other man to move into by [illegible].

The President likes the more [illegible] atmosphere of Blair House. The temporary White House suits him to a T; he once said because it isn't like living in a museum.

COSTLY "VOYAGE"

The City of Seattle got an $8,500 [illegible] yesterday because its [illegible] went aground during a [illegible] voyage from Hope [illegible] Lake.

It [illegible] a truck.

The judgment was given in Federal court against the Globe and Rutgers Insurance Company of New York. The [illegible] had been insured for the trip for $2,[illegible].

WITHLEIGH, Devonshire, England (CP).—Persons from the western side of the village have been getting married in the wrong church since 1924. The rector of nearby Templeton found an order-in-council of July 1924 transferring part of Withleigh Ecclesiastical Parish to Templeton.

Bombing Range Set Up

T. E. Morrison, agent for the Department of Transport here, yesterday announced that a practice bombing range will be established by the Royal Canadian Air Force in the Strait of Georgia, at Roberts Bank.

Boundaries of the danger area will be as follows, commencing at a point approximately three [illegible] English Bluff, [illegible] 49 degrees 0' 24" [illegible] degrees 06' 20" thence 11 nautical miles bearing 2[illegible] degrees, thence four nautical miles bearing 57 degrees 30", thence 1.55 nautical miles bearing 321 degrees, thence 1.2 nautical miles bearing 4 degrees 30", thence [illegible] nautical miles bearing 16 degrees 15", thence 1.55 nautical miles bearing 6[illegible] degrees 15", thence four nautical miles bearing 127 degrees, thence 11 nautical miles bearing 101 degrees, thence to the point of commencement.

Bearings and distances herewith presented Mr. Morrison pointed out are approximate only, and are referred to Canadian Hydrographic Service Chart No. 3450, of June 18, 1948.

Mariners have also been advised that the Alert Bay [illegible] [illegible] off Alert Bay.

At the Theatres

DOMINION THEATRE.—There's love and [illegible] and laughter to say nothing of Dorothy Lamour and Don Ameche in Columbia Pictures merry masquerade "Slightly French," at the Dominion Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE.—Harry Carey Jr., John Wayne and Pedro Armendariz put up a desperate fight against thirst and heat in the desert in "Three Godfathers," new adventure drama directed by John Ford. The exciting [illegible] drama now showing at the Capitol Theatre was filmed in Death Valley, California.

ROYAL THEATRE.—"Yellow Sky," starring Gregory Peck and Anne Baxter, is now playing at the Royal Theatre. The film is a tense gripping story of elemental emotions pitted against a rugged outdoor setting as primitive as life itself. It unfolds the story of seven desperate outlaws who are forced to take refuge in a ghost town [illegible] a treasure [illegible] of gold and a pretty girl whom they each mark as their personal prize. Tension mounts as Gregory Peck finds himself matched against Richard Widmark for the girl and the gold.

Amusements

ON THE SCREEN

Royal — "Yellow Sky," starring Gregory Peck, Anne Baxter and Richard Widmark.

Odeon — "The Passionate Friends," starring Ann Todd, Claude Rains and Trevor Howard.

Capitol — "Three Godfathers," starring Harry Carey, Jr., John Wayne and Pedro Armendariz.

Atlas—"Words and Music," starring Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland.

Dominion—"Slightly French," starring Dorothy Lamour and Don Ameche.

Plaza—"16 Fathoms Deep," starring Arthur Lake, Lon Chaney, Lloyd Bridges, Eric Feldary and Tanis Chandler.

Oak Bay—"The White Unicorn," with Margaret Lockwood and Ian Hunter.

ATLAS THEATRE.—Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland make their tenth screen appearance together in M-G-M's star-studded new musical offering "Words and Music." Also starring in the glittering musical are June Allyson, Perry Como, Lena Horne, Gene Kelly and Ann Sothern.

PLAZA THEATRE.—Starring Arthur Lake, Lon Chaney, Lloyd Bridges, Eric Feldary and Tanis Chandler, this is an exciting story of adventure, intrigue and rich romance played effectively against the thrilling backdrop of Florida's sponge fishing industry.

Theatres Plan For 'Foto Nite'

Something new in entertainment for Victoria's theatre-going public will be held on the stage of the Dominion and Atlas Theatres starting next Tuesday evening, it was announced yesterday.

A "Foto Nite" will be held on the stage of both theatres in addition to the regular screen attraction.

"Foto Nite" is the occasion when, through the co-operation of the audience and a special stage effect, a name is selected, and if the person whose name is recorded is at either the Dominion or the Atlas Theatre, he or she will be made a large cash offer for his or her photograph.

How the photographic entry into the "Foto Nite" procedure will be explained from the stage of both theatres.

George Cullahan, director of "Foto Nite" shows for Canada, will be master of ceremonies.

Ships Resume Schedules

The Lady Nelson, flagship of the Canadian National Steamship Line, sailed from Montreal at noon today with a Seafarers' International Union crew aboard. She will embark passengers Monday at Boston for Bermuda, Leeward and Windward Islands, Barbados, Trinidad and British Guiana. Commanded by Capt. N. J. Roach, O.B.E., the Nelson will also carry a heavy cargo of flour, medical supplies and other Canadian products to the West Indies.

Coincident with the sailing of the Nelson, V. E. Eke, passenger traffic manager of the company, announced that passenger service to Bermuda, British West Indies and British Guiana by the Canadian National Line will be resumed immediately. C.N.S. passenger service was interrupted last month by the strike action of the Canadian Seamen's Union against Eastern Canadian operators of deepsea ships, but the C.N.S. vessels have now been manned, said Mr. Eke, with experienced crews under contracts with the Seafarers' International Union.

The Lady Rodney, sister ship of the Nelson, is expected to reach [illegible] April 28. She sailed southbound from Halifax on April 9 in cargo service only but was bring passengers on her northbound voyage.

The three Diesel cargo vessels, Canadian Challenger, Canadian Cruiser and Canadian Constructor, will also carry passengers again, said Mr. Eke.

FIRST VOYAGE

When the C.P.R.'s new Sa. Princess Marguerite arrives here early this afternoon on her way from Seattle to Vancouver she will be carrying a large delegation of Seattle Chamber of Commerce, Seattle Propeller Club, Transportation Club and World Trade Club members.

The delegates, making the goodwill cruise in the new ship, have incorporated the journey into plans for the observance of World Trade Week, to be held between May 22 and 28. The Seattle group will forward an official invitation to the Vancouver Board of Trade to participate in the World Trade Week program.

After being open to the general public of Seattle yesterday afternoon, the new Marguerite will officially enter the triangle run this morning when she leaves Seattle at 7:30.

To anyone who has an ounce of gumption and a little money we can offer opportunities to make a good living, in particular a coffee shop on Yates Street, another one in the downtown section, a mobile meat business, a good thing now and could be made much better; a real estate and insurance business. Small capital investment and small overhead. We mention these particularly because all that is required is a little old-fashioned "guts" and initiative. If you haven't these don't waste our time and yours.

Champion Steer in Fair Near "Perfect Animal"

Grand champion beef steer at Saskatchewan Winter Fair held in Regina was Shorthorn animal pictured above. Owner and exhibitor of steer was Walter Clark of Greenhaulme Farm, Inchkeith, Sask. Judge Dean J. W. G. MacEwan, of University of Manitoba, said steer was "as near perfect animal as could be found." "They don't come better at Toronto Royal," he declared. Steer sold for 90 cents per pound at fat cattle sale.

Truman, O'Dwyer Embarrassed By Young Roosevelt Candidacy

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Difficulties for both President Truman and Mayor O'Dwyer of New York are discerned as result of a decision of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. to run for Congress without the blessing of the Tammany-controlled Democratic party in the district.

The seat at stake in the heart of Manhattan was vacated by the death of Rep. Sol Bloom. After the American Labor Party had secured a court order against Governor Dewey requiring him to show cause why a special election should not be called the Governor last week called the election for May 17.

As it now appears, there will be four nominees for the office—all of them selected by party committees rather than popular vote. After Democratic district leaders had rejected his bid for the Congressional seat by a vote of 14 to 1, young Roosevelt announced that he would run as an independent. He will run under the labels of the "Liberal" anti-Communist offshoot from the American Labor Party and a new "Four Freedoms" party.

SAME PROGRAM

In a statement on Thursday, however, Roosevelt asserted that "I am a party Democrat" and that his platform would be the New Deal under President Roosevelt "courageously continued by the Fair Deal under President Truman."

The regular Democratic candidate has not yet been chosen, but the probable selection for that role is Municipal Court Justice Benjamin Shalleck, who no doubt will declare himself also as a supporter of the Roosevelt-Truman philosophies.

The American Labor (Wallace) Party, which polled 13½ per cent of the votes cast in the district last November has announced that it will have a candidate of its own, and so will the Republican Party which polled slightly under 30 per cent of the 1948 vote.

MUST TAKE SIDES

The embarrassment for President Truman and Mayor O'Dwyer is that they almost certainly will have to take sides between young Roosevelt and his regular Democratic opponent. For O'Dwyer this decision is particularly difficult because he is up for re-election himself next November with expected opposition by the Liberal Party which is Franklin D. Jr.'s main backer.

When the latter's present candidacy first was suggested O'Dwyer hailed it with pleasure. But later he said there were others who might have equally good claim to the Democratic nomination. O'Dwyer hasn't mentioned the subject at all since Tammany indicated it is dead set against Roosevelt.

Of O'Dwyer's over all plurality of 285,346 four years ago, 257,929 came from the American Labor Party which is now against him. Even in 1945 the Liberal Labor Party was against O'Dwyer.

The refusal of Tammany to take Franklin D. Jr. stems mainly from the support by President Roosevelt of Mayor La Guardia, the Republican-American Labor Fusionist nominee, in opposition to Mr. O'Dwyer, the Democratic candidate, in 1941.

AGAINST TAMMANY

Earlier, President Roosevelt promoted organization of the American Labor Party which has fought Tammany always and last year cost President Truman the 47 electors of New York State by throwing votes to Mr. Wallace.

The choice that now confronts Mr. Truman between young Roosevelt and his Democratic opponent is made more difficult by the present situation in Congress. Roosevelt is the darling of Americans for Democratic Action which has provided the principal organizational support for the main features of the Fair Deal: broader and higher pensions, socialized medicine, Government-subsidized housing, etc. But A.D.A. also is closely allied in New York with the Liberal Party, which is bitterly opposed both to Mayor O'Dwyer and Tammany Hall.

AIMING HIGHER

For Mr. Truman there is the added complication that Tammany Congressmen, typified by the late Mr. Bloom, generally have gone down the line in support of administration measures. They might join up with the already formidable southern revolters if the President now jumps the Party fence in support of young Roosevelt.

Whether or not the latter wins the present contest he probably will move up to higher aspirations next year and in 1952. There is talk of nominating him either for Governor or Senator in New York and if he should win either of these offices, he certainly would be doomed in the next Democratic national convention for either president or vice-president.

Being Fluonomist Said Dirty Work

HALIFAX, April 11 (CP)—When Alderman John Walker took the stand recently at a Halifax County Court probe into this city's snow-blower purchase, he was asked his occupation by Investigation Counsel H. P. MacKeen.

"Fluonomist," replied Alderman Walker.

The lawyer inquired if Alderman Walker had coined the word.

"No, sir. It's my business, that's all. It's a dirty business, but the money is clean."

A fluonomist is a chimney sweep. Alderman Walker said he discovered the word in an Irish newspaper and adopted it.

Line From Renfrew To Aid West Coast

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, April 27.—Working from Shawnigan Lake inland, a crew of 20 men is progressing steadily on the installation of a telephone and teletype line to connect Port Renfrew direct with the B.C. Telephone Company's exchange at Cobble Hill. The line is being put in by the Dominion Government's Department of Transport, and the work will occupy about five months.

About fifteen members of the crew are local men, while the remainder are regular employees of the department. H. Baycroft, company construction superintendent for Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland, is in charge, and the foreman is W. J. Hollum, of Prince Albert, Sask.

The line will be of great benefit to the B.C. Forest Products Co., Ltd., whose present sole wire connection is by an old beach line to Jordan River or Bamfield, with radio telephone the only contact when the beach line is out of order.

The terrain through which the line is passing is not difficult, and work will continue out of Shawnigan for about 15 miles, after which a camp will be established. A similar line is being constructed from Port Alberni to Bamfield, a distance of 60 miles.

Ramsay Speaks About Politics

NANAIMO, April 27. — Rupert Ramsay, former leader of the Conservative party in Saskatchewan, reviewed the history of the C.C.F. Government in Saskatchewan and its policies of making Crown corporations out of industry. Some of them have not paid, he averred, and were sold to the highest bidder. The C.C.F. policies, while not all wrong, "will lead you back to feudalism," he said.

Mr. Ramsay was speaking at a public meeting sponsored by the Nanaimo Progressive Conservative Association. Reading from the C.C.F. handbook, he said their policy on social ownership indicated everything would be socialized but homes, furniture and clothing. "I much prefer to see land owners than land tenants," he said. Taxes have soared in Saskatchewan. The population is falling. They are coming to British Columbia.

Many he meets, he said, are interested in social security when their working days end. Mr. Ramsay said the policy of contributory insurance, to be drawn on later in life, was the remedy.

Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., also spoke.

Dr. A. H. Meneely was chairman.

Steps were taken to organize a Young People's Conservative Association.

Veterans Hold Annual Event

SAANICHTON, April 27.—More than 100 Great War veterans gathered recently in the Masonic Hall at Saanichton to commemorate the anniversary of the second battle of Ypres and Zeebrugge. History of the Royal Canadian Navy was traced by Capt. H. Massey Goolden. Capt. C. R. Wilson played the "Lament."

Entertainers included Robert Boutillier, Walter Jones, Frank Spooner, J. J. Matheson, E. Williams and William Hudson. Members of the committee in charge were Capt. Nat Gray, Stuart Stoddart, W. Douglas, R. H. Glidden, T. H. Griggs, W. Newton, Walter Jones and Thomas Jones.

Name Officers At Chemainus

CHEMAINUS, April 27.—James Parkinson was re-elected president, and Mrs. M. Sandland secretary-treasurer of the Chemainus Garden Club at the annual meeting. Mrs M. Crucil was named vice-president; Mrs. J. E. Hess, program convenor, and Mrs. S. Best, social convenor. W. Lythgoe and Mrs. D. Craig were welcomed as new members. It was reported that double red hawthornes and evergreens had been planted at Chemainus Elementary School.

Weather Forecasts

East Coast of Vancouver Island—Overcast with steady rain in the morning, with light rain in the afternoon. Winds easterly at 20 m.p.h. Mild.

West Coast of Vancouver Island—Overcast, rain in the morning with light rain in the afternoon. Winds southerly at 20 m.p.h. Mild.

Prepare Plans For Big Show

DUNCAN, April 27.—Plans for the sixth annual Duncan Dominion Day Carnival are under way, with the managing secretary, W. G. Chappell, and various committees working hard to make another successful event.

An announcement has been made that Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., has accepted the carnival committee's invitation to officiate at the opening on July 1.

The Dogwood Chapter, I.O.D.E., has agreed to secure judges for a personality and beauty contest, with candidates nominated from various high schools in the Cowichan district as a means of selecting a lumber queen.

SUPERVISE RECEIPTS

William Osborne, a Victoria chartered accountant, has consented to act for the committee in the matter of handling gate receipts, according to H. Peile, chairman of the carnival committee. He will be assisted by competent volunteers from Duncan.

Information has been received that the Tzouhalem Hotel has offered a room for the use of distinguished guests this year, with the Commercial Hotel following suit.

Parade prizes will be awarded for the best Canadian floats, most modern, old-fashioned, commercial, oldest self-propelled automobile, comic, decorated automobiles, and entries from societies, fraternities, service clubs and youth organizations.

Stage Contest

COBBLE HILL, April 27.—Members of the Cobble Hill Calf Club entertained their parents and friends during a recent quiz contest in Cobble Hill Hall. Teams were coached by Ted Pearson and Marie Cullen, and Miss Echo Lidster was judge. Bruce Richardson was master of ceremonies. Guy Motherwell spoke on his experiences at the University of British Columbia.

Leaves Family

CHEMAINUS, April 27.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Edith DeWitt McGregor, 86, will be held on Thursday at St. Michael's and All Angel's Church, followed by interment in Chemainus Cemetery. Mrs. McGregor is survived by a son, Robert, Chemainus, and three daughters, Mrs. S. H. Carscadden, Solsgirth, Man.; Mrs. H. S. Hickling, Eastend, Sask., and Miss Jean McGregor, Duncan; also seven grandchildren.

Program to Recall History of Nanaimo

NANAIMO, April 27.—Descendants of the earliest pioneers of Nanaimo, who made the historical trip on the Ss. Princess Royal, have been chosen to be queen and maids of honor at the jubilee celebration.

Queen is Miss Gertrude Elliott, 23, great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meakin, who traveled on the Princess Royal to Vancouver Island from Staffordshire, England, in 1854.

Maids of honor are: Miss Pauline Parkin, 21, great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Malpass, also passengers on the memorable voyage, and Miss Bernice Biggs, great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Biggs, whose signatures are on the log of the first trip of the Ss. Princess Royal.

The celebration committee decided that the first parade over the jubilee festivities must be Nanaimo born, and direct descendants of the pioneers who hewed their homes from the virgin forest here.

Members turned the matter over to the Nanaimo Pioneer's Association which appointed a committee to investigate eligible candidates. The committee pared down the list to the three selected.

Hall Transfer Task Proceeds

Spring planting was one of the main topics under discussion at a recent meeting of the South Saanich Farmers' Institute in the Temperance Hall at Keating.

Two varieties of potatoes and fertilizer were distributed to members who had entered the potato-growing competition.

W. W. Michell, president of the association, announced the transfer of the Temperance Hall to the institute was in the hands of legal representatives.

He also reported a committee had met the Saanich Council on the trades license by-law, which the institute was protesting.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the institute at the Experimental Station, Saanichton, and invite the Women's Institute.

Frank Lyons, of the Experimental Station, discussed the care and maintenance of modern farm machinery.

Duncan Briefs

DUNCAN, April 27.—North Cowichan Council has purchased a new power shovel at a cost of $16,000. The shovel which the council bought two years ago was not up to the job required of it, and it was the need of a more modern piece of machinery which prompted aldermen to trade it in on the new one.

* * *

A nominating convention for the selection of a Coalition candidate for Cowichan-Newcastle riding will be held here on Thursday night. Delegates from all parts of the riding will be in attendance, and it is hoped to put up a strong candidate who will make a determined effort to re-capture the seat from the C.C.F.

* * *

The tag day held in aid of the St. John Ambulance Brigade produced the sum of $209. This will be added to the amount already collected for the worthy cause. The quota for the Duncan area is $1,200. Mayor J. C. Wragg joined Moyse Hopton, chairman, in asking citizens to send in their donations early so that they can wind up the campaign.

Training Jump Proves Fatal

WINNIPEG, April 27 (CP).—A 20-year-old member of the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry died in hospital Wednesday following a routine night training jump from the parachute tower at the Shilo, Man., army training camp.

Army authorities gave his name as Pte. Peter M. H. Russell, of Galiano Island.

After landing, he walked away, but complained of not feeling well. Rushed to hospital, he died an hour later.

Object to Use Of School Lot

COBBLE HILL, April 27.—A resolution opposing any move to sell part of the grounds of Cobble Hill School was passed at a meeting of property owners. The matter arose when a suitable site for a new post office was discussed.

The rural postal route serving 292 boxes will be extended to take in a portion of the new Island Highway as far as Lakeside Road. Satisfaction was expressed with the work of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wass, who are in charge of the post office, and Ian Menzies, rural courier.

Presents Data

COBBLE HILL, April 27.—Aspects concerning formation of a municipality were discussed by B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of Municipal Affairs, during a recent meeting of the South Cowichan Taxpayers' Association in Cobble Hill Hall. A. T. Motherwell presided.

Given Promotions

ROBERT W. PATRICK

W. ERNEST HOLLAND

B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. has announced promotion of Robert W. Patrick to dealer services supervisor of Vancouver Island. He succeeds W. Ernest Holland who has been promoted to position of gas engineer with company at Vancouver. Mr. Holland assumed duties there Friday. Mr. Patrick was educated in Victoria and later spent six years in retail merchandising field prior to serving in armed forces from 1942 to 1944. He joined company in 1945 and had been dealer development representative until his new appointment. He is member of Victoria Electric Club and is active in sporting organizations.

Teachers at Ladysmith Reject Board Schedule

LADYSMITH, April 27. — A revised salary schedule endorsed by school trustees of Ladysmith District No. 57 at a meeting on March 28 and forwarded to the Ladysmith-Chemainus Teachers' Association for consideration, has been unanimously rejected by that group. A communication dealing with the rejection was considered by the school board at a meeting presided over by Trustee C. C. Jones.

The proposed schedule recommended an elementary schools minimum of $1,650, maximum, $2,750; and secondary schools, minimum $1,950, maximum $3,350, with annual increments of $100 until the maximum was reached. The schedule had been compiled after studying the teachers' requests very carefully, and taking into consideration the arbitration awards in other districts with larger school populations and assessment values. The scale would have become effective September 1.

After brief discussion the matter was referred back to the teachers' committee, Trustees James Reed, Raymond Herod and William H. Olsen, who were empowered to arrange a meeting with the teachers' own salary committee for further discussion.

Teachers requested elementary, $1,650-$3,000, and secondary, $2,000-$3808, with annual increments of $150. The schedule would cover temporary to first-class teachers.

It is proposed that the whole question of teachers' salaries will be discussed at a regional meeting of school boards in the near future.

Board to Seek Large Amount

PORT ALBERNI, April 27.—The school board of Alberni District No. 70 has presented figures on extraordinary expenses for 1949 to the councils of Alberni, Port Alberni and rural representatives.

The total amount is $1,545,632.29, which is $250,000 higher than original school building projects were expected to cost. A Government grant would take care of 50 per cent. Alberni's share is 12.72 per cent, Port Alberni, 43.66 per cent, and the rural area, 43.62 per cent.

The board expressed the desire to have a by-law go before the people on May 21 so building would be under way by July.

The Alberni Council decided to table the estimates until the matter of the injunction against the arbitration board is settled. Mayor J. V. Hills of Alberni remarked that he regarded the injunction as ill-advised. Members of the Port Alberni Council also foresaw delay in the program due to the injunction.

Appreciate Aid

CAMPBELL RIVER, April 27.—A letter of appreciation for assistance given during a visit from the mobile X-ray unit was read at a meeting of the Rotary Ann Club. A blood donor drive will be held in September. Next meeting will be held on May 18.

WOKING, Surrey, England (CP).—A dress-shop owner here held a drawing among all his customers to distribute his allocation of nylon stockings.

And the Walls Came Tumbling

By JOSEPH McCORD

CHAPTER XXVI—Continued

But it was too late to do anything about it now. As Amanda set about getting supper she could imagine Carol trying to select some attractive tourist place for the night. If only the two of them were all right. But Carol would be careful. Of course she would.

To make matters worse, Wilbur was late tonight.

It was almost six-thirty when Amanda heard his car on the drive. A moment after he entered the kitchen with his customary "hello," and a brief regret at being late. With that, he walked into the dining-room as he always did to speak to his brother. In an instant he was back in the kitchen.

"You didn't let Chuck stay out in the shop as late as this, did you? It's growing cold."

Amanda went on stirring potatoes in the skillet. She did not look up and, for a second, could not trust herself to speak. Wige took a step nearer the stove.

"Where is Chuckie?" he demanded.

CHAPTER XXVII

Charlie Lennon had almost nothing to say during the first miles of his unexpected journey, and Carol made no effort to draw him into conversation. She imagined that he felt self-conscious over his unsuccessful revolt although she was a little disconcerted over his tears she had seen. They could have been due to excitement and physical weakness. She hoped he had been nursing a secret longing to have those treatments in spite of what he had said, and that the emotional reaction was happiness, in part at least.

Carol was thankful for her companion's silence at the start, for driving the two hundred miles and more was a great responsibility. She drove at a modest speed, and very carefully. By noon the tension had relaxed.

Charlie had begun to show appreciable interest in the landscape and was perfectly amenable to the suggestion of a hot dog and a bottle of soft drink. Carol also was surprised and relieved to discover that he apparently was familiar with motors and driving. He could be of no use physically if any trouble developed, but he would be able to advise her. That would be a great help. She also was glad that he asked no questions until late in the afternoon, when he came out with an abrupt query.

"Does Wige know I'm with you now? Mom said it was all right with him, but does he know I'm gone?"

"I talked it over with him some time ago," Carol answered evasively.

"But you said you were kidnapping me," he persisted. "I don't know why he didn't say something to me last night. I didn't see him this morning before he left."

"Well . . . He didn't know that we were going quite so soon," Carol admitted, staring closely at the road ahead. "Your mother and I fixed it as a sort of surprise."

"Oh."

"We're going to stop at some tourist camp, before long," Carol continued hastily. "I don't want you to get too tired and I haven't driven this long before, not without rest. I wish you'd watch for a place that looks attractive to you. And you have a better chance than I to look them over."

Charlie evidently followed her instructions for he said nothing until they had gone several miles.

"There's a place on the right that doesn't seem bad, Carol."

She checked her speed and glanced at a well-painted house flanked by neat cabins.

"That does look attractive," she admitted, "and we don't have to cross the road to get in. We'll have a look at it."

She left Charlie in the car while she went to make inquiries. A matronly-looking woman answered the bell.

"I am taking a boy down to Siloam Springs for treatment," Carol explained, "and I want to break the trip so that he doesn't become too tired. Are your cabins heated?"

"Yes, indeed, miss."

"Then I wish to engage two and I'd be glad if my patient could lie down and rest as soon as possible."

"You his nurse?"

"Not really. I'm a receptionist in his doctor's office." It wouldn't hurt to mention her old job again for the occasion. "There was no one else to bring him just now."

"Can he walk?"

"Not very easily. He wears a brace."

"I was just asking," the woman said kindly, "because I think it would be better if you would put him in a downstairs bedroom I have. It's right next to the kitchen and it's good and warm. He can have his supper in bed if he likes. Let me show it to you."

"Oh, this will be very nice!" Carol exclaimed after a brief survey of the clean little room. "I'll help Charlie in right away."

"No you won't. My Charlie will bring him in . . . he's sitting in the kitchen." At her call, a big man entered leisurely.

"Want me, mother?"

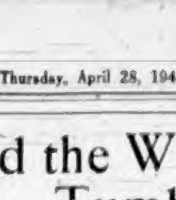

"Pa, this lady has a lame boy out in the car. You fetch him right off and bring in their things, too. You can have a cabin if you like," she said to Carol, "but you'd better let me give you a room upstairs for tonight."

When Carol and her companion reached the car. Charlie said, "I can walk all right." The big man chuckled.

A 'PURR'-FECT POME

WELL . . . finally the new kittens . . . have made their debut, and thank goodness . . . only two. The G.F. knew . . . when the "time" had come, as our cat was in . . . a delerium. She made weird noises, m-e-o-w-e-d a lot, so the G.F. fixed a carton . . . in a likely spot. "Then I came up-stairs to vacuum the rug, no more I could do . . . so to work with a shrug. Then when I had finished . . . put the cleaner away, I warmed up the coffee . . . like I do every day. Then I sat down on a kitchen chair, my continued story beside me there. It was one of those yarns (all quite daft), of a sun-tanned gal . . . out on a raft. 'Twas at Bar Harbour where she starred, & there was . . . as usual . . . the handsome lifeguard. He had broad shoulders & nice slim hips, she was all curvy . . . laughing teeth & big red lips. Just a Summer flirtation . . . the sun on their backs, & he was from . . . the wrong side of the tracks. How this story ended I do not know, 'cause I suddenly sensed . . . a great quiet below. I rushed down into the basement . . . the carton deserted, 'Here Kitty, Kitty,' I loudly blurted. But NOT a me-oui . . . not a sound, I looked everywhere . . . but she couldn't B found." But YOU can always find, things for your house, our prices reflect . . . we're in a Warehouse. A davenport . . . for instance just 59-fifty, & remember, it's always "Smart to Be Thrifty." "Then quiet I was . . . just like a clam, till I folded back the top . . . of an old English pram. That's stood in a corner, since that day, when it was wonderingly . . . stowed away. THERE THEY WERE . . . in that purr-fect place, with a peacock look . . . on the mother's face. It's silly, I know, but the truth I ladle, once more I gently . . . rocked that cradle." This is the G.F.'s story. I didn't adorn, of HOW & WHEN these kitties were born. Both are the color of finnan-haddie, so NOW we know . . . just WHO IS THE DADDY.

According to Culbertson - - -

(Copyright, 1949, by Ely Culbertson)

It was not North's light opening bid in today's deal that got his side in trouble—it was his subsequent bidding.

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♠ 8 4
♥ 6
♦ A J 10 4
♣ A J 8 6 3 2

WEST
♠ Q 9 7 5 2
♥ 9 6
♦ Q 8 7 3
♣ 7 5

EAST
♠ 10 3
♥ J 10 8 7 2
♦ 6 5
♣ K Q 9 4

SOUTH
♠ A K J 8
♥ A K Q 4 3
♦ K 9 2
♣ 10

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	5 N.T.	Pass
6 ♣	Double	6 N.T.	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

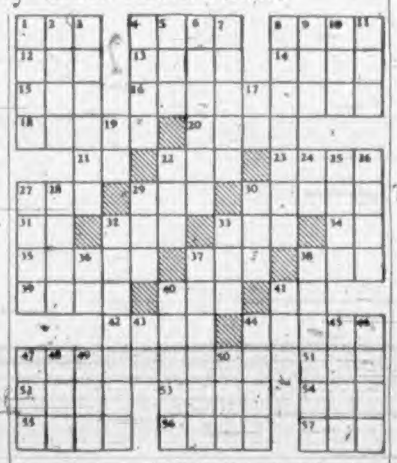

North's one-club opening was entirely justified, as was his first rebid, but on the next round he went sadly astray.

The four-diamond bid could not fail to discourage South on two different planes. First, by going past the three-no-trump level, North was tacitly saying that he did not have to play for only nine tricks; second, if this was really the message North intended to send, it was doubly encouraging that he showed a new, higher ranking suit, since he obviously could have rebid clubs once more. South realized that his partner had not shown a fit for either hearts or spades, but the sheer power of South's honors figured to see him through.

South actually gave North plenty of leeway by now jumping to only five no trump (which was not a conventional bid), and everything would have come out all right if North had then exercised enough restraint to pass. When, indeed, he elected to bid six clubs, and East promptly doubled, South bid the six no trump as a rescue.

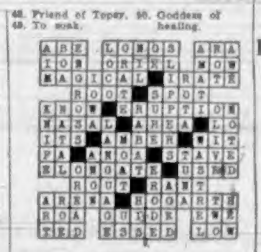

South played the hand perfectly against the club opening by West, finessing successfully against West in diamonds and getting East into an end-play that cost him a club trick, but the contract was simply too high, and South came out with only 11 tricks.

Eagles Give Support To Traffic Department

Police Commission Meets

The Victoria Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has become "safety conscious" because of traffic talks given the organization by Sgt. Brooke Douglas, the police commission was informed yesterday.

The aerie promised full support to the new traffic department and asked that particular attention be given to correcting the hazards at the Junction, Hillside Avenue and Douglas Street and Oak Bay and Richmond Avenues.

* * *

WAGE QUESTION

Police commission will ask the city comptroller if he will consider paying recently-awarded police wage boosts before the new agreement is signed.

A conciliation board has awarded 4 per cent increases retroactive to January 1 to members of the Victoria Police Federal Union. The commission ruled that all police department employees will get the increase.

COURT KEPT BUSY

Fines levied in city police court during March amounted to $4,019, Police Chief John A. McLellan stated in his monthly report to the commission.

Total of 569 convictions or orders were made, 92 being under the Motor Vehicle Act, 106 under the streets traffic and regulation by-law and 277 under the parking meter by-law.

Seventy-eight arrests were made during the month and there were 485 summonses and pre-paid fines. Value of stolen property reported was $1,849, $227 worth being recovered. Total of 1,207 reports were received for attention. Nine cars were reported stolen and all were recovered.

There were 99 reportable accidents and 13 persons slightly injured. First aid was rendered to 18 persons and the patrol wagon made 186 runs.

One juvenile was charged with forgery and another with taking a car without the owner's consent.

An annual report of accident statistics on Gorge Road between Harriet Road and Government Street where new street lights have been installed has been asked by the city street lighting department in a letter to the police commission.

Kenneth Reid, lighting superintendent, said 46 higher intensity lights have been installed on Gorge Road and his department is desirous of ascertaining if accidents are reduced. He also asked for accident reports in recent years on this section and the Johnson Street extension where new lights are being installed.

* * *

TO CHECK PARKING

Strict compliance to parking regulations on Broad Street between View and Fort Streets has been asked by the City Council in a letter received by the commission.

"In view of the congested condition of vehicular and pedestrian traffic on Broad Street, the commission is urged to enforce strict compliance with the governing by-law," the letter stated.

Commission instructed Chief McLellan to comply with the by-law up to the limit of his interpretation of it. There has been considerable controversy over various sections of the by-law and how they apply.

* * *

NEW UNIFORMS

The commission passed a motion asking the City Council to instruct the purchasing agent to call tenders for a quantity of policemen's clothing. Uniforms, overcoats, capes, shirts and ties will be purchased to replace worn-out equipment.

* * *

APPROVES PROMOTION

Promotion of Constable Keith Hollett to a first-class constable was approved by the commission.

* * *

ASK ALTERATIONS

Motion to ask the City Council to have the building inspector draw up plans for alterations to the city police station to house the new traffic department was passed by the commission.

Following presentation of plans, tenders will be called for the $3,500 project. It is planned to convert the patrol house into traffic department offices and tear down the chief's garage and the bicycle storehouse in order to build a four-car garage.

Esquimalt May Queen Selected

Fifteen-year-old Donna Wilson, centre in above photograph, has been chosen as Esquimalt's Queen of May by fellow students at Lampson Street School. Her coronation will take place at special ceremony to be held in Bullen Park May 6. Her "princesses," also chosen by ballot, are Barbara Williams, 13, at left, and Eileen May, 12. Citizens of Esquimalt will hold official observation of May on sixth and seventh days of month. Colorful and varied program has been arranged.

Canon Cody Will Preach At Thanksgiving Service

Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, C.M.G., D.D., LL.D., will be the special preacher at the morning and evening services in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday when thanksgiving will be offered on the occasion of the 90th anniversary of the founding of the Diocese of British Columbia.

As rector of St. Paul's Church, Toronto, Dr. Cody made an outstanding contribution to the life of Church and State, and as president of the University of Toronto and later its chancellor, became the great leader in the Canadian field of education.

He will preach again at the service of thanksgiving in the cathedral on Tuesday at 8 p.m. This service marks the opening of the 47th session of the Synod, and will be open to the general public. Those desirous of joining with the cathedral congregation in prayer, praise and thanksgiving, are asked to be in their place before the service begins.

At the session of the Synod, which follows the celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m. Wednesday, the Lord Bishop will deliver his charge. The lay delegates have been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Diocesan Men's Society at Lougheed's Banquet Hall on Wednesday at 6 p.m. The clergy will be the guests of Bishop H. E. Sexton at dinner the same evening.

Graduate of University of Wisconsin and University of Chicago, in social service administration, Mr. Whitelaw has held several top positions in working field of social service in United States.

Logging Company Faces Charge Of Withholding Sums of Money

The M. & K. Logging Co. Ltd., 1216 Broad Street, is facing a charge of failing to remit to the Receiver-General of Canada certain sums of money deducted or withheld from employees' wages.

David G. Sloan, acting for the Crown, told Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday that he wanted to proceed with the case. The charge was not read.

E. M. Levy, counsel for a company official, said the company is in bankruptcy and matters are in the hands of the liquidator. His request for an adjournment to next Tuesday was granted.

"The violation is a serious matter, Your Honor. We want to have a plea and proceed with the case," declared Mr. Sloan.

The charge was laid by F. J. Child of the Department of National Revenue, taxation division. The offence is alleged to have taken place between November 8, 1948, and January 8, 1949.

THEFT CHARGE

John Gillan, address unknown, pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft of two blankets from the Prince Robert House.

Gilan was arrested by Det.-Sgt. Henry F. Jarvis and Detective P. W. Richards. He was remanded to Friday for trial.

Mrs. Mary C. Todd, 844 St. Charles Street, was fined $50 and had her driver's licence suspended for three months when she pleaded guilty to a dangerous driving charge.

IN COLLISION

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said the accused was the driver of a car which April 23 collided head-on with a car on Quadra Street between Tolmie Avenue and Finlayson Street. He explained that Mrs Todd was driving on the wrong side of the road, and the other driver, seeing her coming, stopped his car before the impact.

Mrs. Todd told the magistrate she had dropped some candy on the seat and was fumbling around looking for it. The accident occurred, she said, when she took her eyes off the road. She agreed with the magistrate that it was a dangerous practice. Charge was laid by Constable Lyle Somers.

Six Societies Of Chinese Incorporated

Certificates of incorporation under the Societies Act have been issued to six Chinese Social Associations in Vancouver, it was announced yesterday by Stanley Taylor, superintendent of insurance and registrar of companies.

He said his department had approved the applications after thorough investigations and favorable reports by police.

He added that, after consultation with Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, it was decided that a sufficient number of such societies had now been incorporated to meet present requirements and no further applications would be approved.

It is reported that some of the applications were sought by the Chinese clubs to legalize gambling as in similar white men's clubs.

Nova Scotia To Hold Vote On June 9

HALIFAX, April 27 (CP)—A Nova Scotia general election for Thursday, June 9, was announced today by Premier Angus L. Macdonald. Nomination day is May 26.

The announcement came shortly after Lieutenant-Governor J. A. D. McCurdy dissolved the 43rd Legislature.

Liberals under Premier Macdonald captured 28 of the 30 seats in the 1945 election while the C.C.F. took the remaining two. Four Liberal seats were vacant at dissolution today.

TO ADD SEVEN SEATS

Seven seats will be added to the next House under a partial Redistribution Act passed at the 1948 session of the Legislature. All new seats are in rural areas.

Mr. Macdonald said the election was set for June 9 because the Government did not want it to conflict with the Federal contest, expected to be held June 27.

Telephone Firm Speeds Expansion

VANCOUVER, April 27 (CP).—C. B. Diplock, vice-president and general manager of the British Columbia Telephone Company, has announced the company plans to spend a record $7,500,000 this year on central office and outside plant equipment.

He said the company is accelerating its expansion program "as fast as supply conditions permit."

AIRBORNE MUSIC

MONTREAL (CP).—The Salvation Army's Citadel Band here will take to the air this Fall and become the first Salvation Army band to fly to an assignment. The band will participate in Halifax's 200th anniversary celebrations early in September.

OFFICIAL ERROR

REGINA (CP)—One illustration in "Canada, 1949," issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, showing trolley buses and street-cars side by side "in the downtown district of Edmonton, Alta." is claimed by Reginans. The business places are all to be found on Regina's Eleventh Avenue. So are the vehicles.

FOX FAR AFIELD

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—Local sportsmen, puzzled over the identity of an animal shot in Fullerton township, found out from Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology that it was an Arctic fox. The animal, probably an escapee from a fur farm, has been added to the museum's collection.

Settle Appeal Out of Court

Appeal from a court order concerning a Victoria segment of the $1,397,770 estate of the late Mary Catherine Fisher has been settled out of court by Cora Lilley Smith, executrix of the estate, and the British Columbia Minister of Finance, Carew Martin, K.C., told Appeal Court yesterday.

The appeal of Mrs. Smith against a judgment of Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane was over succession duties to be paid on a $10,000 estate that had been passed on to Mrs. Fisher from her father, the late Charles Woodward.

Terms of the will, made public in 1943 on Mrs. Fisher's death, provides $50,000 for a medical chair at the University of British Columbia and lesser sums for Vancouver charities.

Will Allow 'Seeing-Eyes' Into Cafes

City health department said yesterday it would turn a blind eye on seeing-eye dogs in restaurants.

Medical Health Officer Dr. J. L. Gayton said several complaints from both sides of restaurant counters have come to his office that the guides to the blind were allowed to enter restaurants.

Health Department regulations forbid the presence of any animals in food establishments owing to the danger of food contamination.

"The Victoria-Esquimalt Health Department is of the opinion that seeing-eye dogs are well trained and not liable to be free to wander about," the department announced.

"In view of the complete reliance placed in these dogs, the health department feels this practice may be condoned."

Six Societies Of Chinese Incorporated

Certificates of incorporation under the Societies Act have been issued to six Chinese Social Associations in Vancouver, it was announced yesterday by Stanley Taylor, superintendent of insurance and registrar of companies.

He said his department had approved the applications after thorough investigations and favorable reports by police.

He added that, after consultation with Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, it was decided that a sufficient number of such societies had now been incorporated to meet present requirements and no further applications would be approved.

It is reported that some of the applications were sought by the Chinese clubs to legalize gambling as in similar white men's clubs.

Nova Scotia To Hold Vote On June 9

HALIFAX, April 27 (CP)—A Nova Scotia general election for Thursday, June 9, was announced today by Premier Angus L. Macdonald. Nomination day is May 26.

The announcement came shortly after Lieutenant-Governor J. A. D. McCurdy dissolved the 43rd Legislature.

Liberals under Premier Macdonald captured 28 of the 30 seats in the 1945 election while the C.C.F. took the remaining two. Four Liberal seats were vacant at dissolution today.

TO ADD SEVEN SEATS

Seven seats will be added to the next House under a partial Redistribution Act passed at the 1948 session of the Legislature. All new seats are in rural areas.

Mr. Macdonald said the election was set for June 9 because the Government did not want it to conflict with the Federal contest, expected to be held June 27.

Telephone Firm Speeds Expansion

VANCOUVER, April 27 (CP).—C. B. Diplock, vice-president and general manager of the British Columbia Telephone Company, has announced the company plans to spend a record $7,500,000 this year on central office and outside plant equipment.

He said the company is accelerating its expansion program "as fast as supply conditions permit."

AIRBORNE MUSIC

MONTREAL (CP).—The Salvation Army's Citadel Band here will take to the air this Fall and become the first Salvation Army band to fly to an assignment. The band will participate in Halifax's 200th anniversary celebrations early in September.

OFFICIAL ERROR

REGINA (CP)—One illustration in "Canada, 1949," issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, showing trolley buses and street-cars side by side "in the downtown district of Edmonton, Alta." is claimed by Reginans. The business places are all to be found on Regina's Eleventh Avenue. So are the vehicles.

FOX FAR AFIELD

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—Local sportsmen, puzzled over the identity of an animal shot in Fullerton township, found out from Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology that it was an Arctic fox. The animal, probably an escapee from a fur farm, has been added to the museum's collection.

Settle Appeal Out of Court

Appeal from a court order concerning a Victoria segment of the $1,397,770 estate of the late Mary Catherine Fisher has been settled out of court by Cora Lilley Smith, executrix of the estate, and the British Columbia Minister of Finance, Carew Martin, K.C., told Appeal Court yesterday.

The appeal of Mrs. Smith against a judgment of Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane was over succession duties to be paid on a $10,000 estate that had been passed on to Mrs. Fisher from her father, the late Charles Woodward.

Terms of the will, made public in 1943 on Mrs. Fisher's death, provides $50,000 for a medical chair at the University of British Columbia and lesser sums for Vancouver charities.
